In this thrilling debut a gardener finds his neighbour stabbed to death, scalded with hot water, partly skinned and nailed on the kitchen table of his summer cottage.

Inspector Kalo and his team are completely mystified: apart from having alcohol problems, the victim seems to have led a completely normal and lonesome life. But once the police start to dig deeper into the victim's past, a possible suspect comes to light.

Wonder Girls:
Changing Our World is the first photographic
book to document
groups of activist girls (age 10 to 18) globally.
It's award winning and inspiring! Paola Gianturco and her
eleven-year-old
granddaughter
documented the work
of fifteen girl-led nonprofit groups in thirteen countries in Asia and Central Asia,
North and Latin America, the Middle East, Africa and Oceania. They
interviewed and
photographed 102
girls. If you think "girls are the future,"
prepare to be dazzled.
These girls are
changing our world
right now. Groups of

activist girls age 10-18
are transforming our world: improving
education, health,
equality and the
environment; stopping
child marriage,
domestic violence,
trafficking and war.
Their imagination and
courage radiate
through their stories,
all told in their own
words. In this book,
you will watch girls
lobby U.S. senators;
see Mexican girls
invent mobile phone
apps to solve social problems; meet Malawian girls who convinced Parliament
to outlaw child marriage. You will eavesdrop on Ugandan
girls as they advocate for girls' rights at a UN meeting. And you will meet other girls as
they write blogs,
petitions, poetry,
create radio shows,

videos, invent dances, songs and works of art to promote their causes. Wonder Girls: Changing Our World is a call to action to help these girls accomplish their important work. Alex Sangster's sections, the finale of each chapter, tell you how. The book's Foreword was written by Musimbi Kanyoro, President and CEO of the Global Fund for Women, the world's largest grant-making organization that benefits women and girls internationally. The Global Fund for Women will receive 100% of the authors' royalties from this book.

The question of the extent to which the Septuagint reflects an evolution in messianic belief in comparison with the Masoretic Text has come into prominence in recent years, and in view of the role played by messianism in Jewish belief of the late Second Temple period and in early Christianity it seemed very appropriate that "The Septuagint and Messianism" should be chosen as the theme of the 2004 Colloquium Biblicum Lovaniense. This volume contains the papers given at the Colloquium, which are concerned both with methodological issues and with the interpretation of specific texts (in practice the majority of the texts in the Septuagint for which a messianic interpretation has been claimed). The papers are very far from all reflecting the same approach, and it has frequently happened that the same texts have been treated by different contributors from very different viewpoints. But the fact such different viewpoints are expressed is a proper reflection of the complexity of the issues involved in the question of the extent of messianic belief in the Septuagint, and of the fact that the question requires a nuanced answer. It is in any case hoped that the varied approaches reflected in the papers will serve to make clear the underlying reasons for the differences between those who take a "minimalist" and those who take a "maximalist" view on the subject of the Septuagint and Messianism.

 FORGIVENESS
 REQUIRES MORE
 STRENGTH THAN
 HATRED. Following her release from a Nazi concentration camp, Corrie ten Boom refused to give in to the weakness of anger. Instead, she chose to forgive her captors and spread the message of Christ's love throughout the world. Amazing Love shares

Corrie's incredible stories of encounters with people from all walks of life and shows us how a childlike faith in the wisdom and love of God pushes us to forgive the seemingly impossible. Within these pages you will meet Corrie ten Boom, but you will also meet Corrie's Christ.

Ad Nationes (To the Nations) shows that the Roman actions taken against the early Christians are violations of justice. This is followed by a listing of Roman slanders against the Christians. Tertullian points out the hypocrisy, since Romans hardly conduct themselves in anything resembling moral behavior. The second book condemns and criticizes Roman religion and their deities in particular. "The hatred held by the heathen against the Christians is unjust, because based on culpable ignorance. One proof of that ignorance of yours, which condemns whilst it excuses your injustice, is at once apparent in the fact, that all who once shared in your ignorance and hatred (of the Christian religion), as soon as they have come to know it, leave off their hatred when they cease to be ignorant; nay more, they actually themselves become what they had hated, and take to hating what they had once been. Day after day, indeed, you groan over the increasing number of the Christians. Your constant cry is, that the state is beset (by us); that Christians are in your fields, in your camps, in your islands."-Tertullian 197
