JAMAL REEVES

The Complete English Poems Graphic Arts Books

The early works of beloved poet Robert Frost, collected in one volume. The poetry of Robert Frost is praised for its realistic depiction of rural life in New England during the early twentieth century, as well as for its examination of social and philosophical issues. Through the use of American idiom and free verse, Frost produced many enduring poems that remain popular with modern readers. A Collection of Poems by Robert Frost contains all the poems from his first four published collections: A Boy's Will (1913), North of Boston (1914), Mountain Interval (1916), and New Hampshire (1923), including classics such as "The Road Not Taken," "Fire and Ice," and "Stopping by Woods on a Snowy Evening."

Birches Wordsworth Editions

Slowly, silently, now the moon
 Walks the night in her silver shoon;
 This way, and that, she peers,
 and sees
 Silver fruit upon silver trees;
 One spring evening, the fairies gather in the woods.
 Two sleepy children join in the parade to a wonderful, dream-like fairy party. Illustrated by bright new talent, Carolina Rabei, this Walter de la Mare poem is brought to life with shimmering, ethereal illustrations, making it the perfect book for bedtime. One of four seasonal Walter de la Mare picture books that form a set, each with complementing colour palates and illustrations by rising young star Carolina.

The Complete Poems of Robert Frost Arrow

Justly celebrated at home and abroad, Robert Frost is perhaps America's greatest twentieth-century poet and a towering figure in American letters. From the publication of his first collections, A Boy's Will (1913) and North of Boston (1914), Frost was recognized as a poet of unique power and formal skill, and the enduring significance of his work has been acknowledged by each subsequent generation. His poetry ranges from deceptively simply pastoral lyrics and genial, vernacular genre pieces to darker meditations, complex and ironic. Here, based on extensive research into his manuscripts and published work, is the first authoritative and truly comprehensive collection of his writings. Brought together for the first time in a Library of America single volume is all the major poetry, a generous selection of uncollected poems, all of Frost's dramatic writing, and the most extensive gathering of his prose writings ever published, several of which are printed here for the first time. The core of this collection is the 1949 Complete Poems of Robert Frost, the last collection supervised by Frost himself. This version of the poems is free of unauthorized editorial changes introduced into subsequent editions. Also included is In the Clearing (1962), Frost's final volume of poetry. Verse drawn from letters, articles, pamphlets, and journals makes up the largest selection of uncollected poems ever assembled, including nearly two dozen beautiful early works printed for the first time. Also gathered here are all the dramatic works: three plays and two verse masques. The unprecedented prose section includes more than three times as many items as any other collection available. It is rich and diverse, presenting many newly discovered or rediscovered pieces. Especially unusual items include Frost's contribution to John F. Kennedy's inauguration and two fascinating 1959 essays on "The Future of Man." Several manuscript items are published here for the first time, including the essays "'Caveat Poeta'" and "The Way There," Frost's remarks on being appointed poetry consultant to the Library of Congress in 1958, the preface to a proposed new edition of North of Boston, and many others. A selection of letters represents all of Frost's important comments about prosody, poetics, style, and his theory of "sentence sounds." LIBRARY OF AMERICA is an independent nonprofit cultural organization founded in 1979 to preserve our nation's literary heritage by publishing, and keeping permanently in print, America's best and most significant writing. The Library of America series includes more than 300 volumes to date, authoritative editions that average 1,000 pages in length, feature cloth covers, sewn bindings, and ribbon markers, and are printed on premium acid-free paper that will last for centuries.

Stopping by Woods on a Snowy Evening Hyperion

Selected Poems (1923) is a collection of poems by American poet Robert Frost. Dedicated to Edward Thomas, a friend of Frost's and an important English poet who died toward the end of the First World War, Selected Poems is a wonderful sampling of poems from Frost's early collections, including A Boy's Will and North of Boston. Known for his plainspoken language and dedication to the images and rhythms of rural New England, Robert Frost is one of America's most iconic poets, a voice to whom generations of readers have turned in search of beauty, music, and life. "Mowing" envisions the poet's work through the prism of rural labor. "There was never a sound beside the wood but one / And that was my long scythe whispering to the ground. / What was it it whispered?" The speaker does not know, but continues his task, hypnotized by its rhythm and simple music. In "After Apple-Picking," as fall gives over to winter, the poet remembers in dreams how the "Magnified apples appear and disappear, / Stem end and blossom end" as he climbs the ladder into the heart of the tree. Both a symbol for life and a metaphor for the poetic act, apple picking leaves the poet "overtired / Of the great harvest [he himself] desired", awaiting sleep as he describes "its coming on," wondering what, if anything, it will bring. "The Road Not Taken," perhaps Frost's most famous poem, is a meditation on fate and free will that follows a traveler in an autumn landscape, unsure of which path to take, but certain he cannot stand still. With a beautifully designed cover and professionally typeset manuscript, this edition of Robert Frost's Selected Poems is a classic of American literature reimagined for modern readers.

Poems by Robert Frost Courier Corporation

Poet Robert Frost's first two collections of poetry are together in this one volume. "A Boy's Will" (1913) is the book that introduced readers to Frost's unmistakable poetic voice, and "North of Boston" (1914) includes two of his most famous poems, "Mending Wall" and "Death of a Hired Man". Includes a newly updated bibliography.

Complete Poems of Robert Frost, 1955 Harvard University Press

George Herbert combined the intellectual and the spiritual, the humble and the divine, to create some of the most moving devotional poetry in the English language. His deceptively simple verse uses the ingenious arguments typical of seventeenth-century 'metaphysical' poets, and unusual imagery drawn from musical structures, the natural world and domestic activity to explore a mosaic of Biblical themes. From the wit and wordplay of 'The Pulley' and the formal experimentation of 'Easter Wings' and 'Paradise', to the intense, highly personal relationship between man and God portrayed in 'The Collar' and 'Redemption', the works collected here show the transcendental power of divine love.

On Not Being Someone Else Delphi Classics

La poeta norteamericana más radical junto a Emily Dickinson, ganadora del Premio Pulitzer y del National Book Award. «Una poeta de poetas». Jaime Gil de Biedma «Marianne Moore se enfrentó a los convencionalismos lingüísticos, sintácticos y temáticos de lo que Gertrude Stein llamó la "poesía patriarcal". Y cabría añadir: salió victoriosa». Elaine Showalter 50o ANIVERSARIO Versión de Olivia de Miguel, merecedora del Premio Nacional de Traducción En la poesía del siglo XX, el nombre de Marianne Moore ocupa un lugar esencial. Quizá sea, después de Emily Dickinson, la poeta más radical que han dado las letras norteamericanas. Compañera de generación de Wallace Stevens o de William Carlos Williams, Moore logró crear un universo poético, tanto en el fondo como en la forma, muy distinto a lo que hasta entonces se había hecho. Poeta del mundo natural, muy poco dada al tono confesional, su poesía nace en el imaginismo de su generación y desemboca en el alumbramiento de una poesía construida con imágenes y símbolos de una belleza pura. La crítica ha dicho: «La poeta más radical de las letras norteamericanas. Una poesía repleta de imágenes que son pura belleza.» Greta H. Quiroga, Harper's Bazaar «Una experiencia que no deja indiferente, una apuesta por lo inesperado.» Ernest Farrés, La Vanguardia «Una poesía que no puede leerse sin el sobresalto, hondo y rico, de una singularidad excepcional.» Luis Antonio de Villena «Marianne Moore fue la más importante de los modernistas estadounidenses; reescribió las reglas de la forma literaria.» Declan Kiberd «Ironía, agudeza, meticulosidad, precisión verbal..., se integran en el universo poético de Moore.» Jorge de Arco, Piedra del Molino «Un ritmo de intensidad lírica sumamente prometedor y sincero.» Cándido Pérez Gállego «Una poeta de poetas.» Jaime Gil de Biedma «Marianne Moore se enfrentó a los convencionalismos lingüísticos, sintácticos y temáticos de lo que Stein llamó la "poesía patriarcal". Y cabría añadir: salió victoriosa.» Elaine Showalter «Una transgresora en toda regla, como sus contemporáneas H. D. y Amy Lowell. [...] Propuesta métrica renovadora, exuberancia discursiva, versos desconcertantes que fluyen en estructuras rítmicas completamente inéditas hasta esa fecha...» Ma Ángeles Cabré, Letras Libres

Robert Frost's Poems National Geographic Books

"To be someone—to be anyone—is about...not being someone else. Miller's amused and inspired book is utterly compelling." —Adam Phillips "A compendium of expressions of wonder over what might have been...Swept up in our real lives, we quickly forget about the unreal ones. Still, there will be moments when, for good or ill, we feel confronted by our unrealized possibilities." —New Yorker We live one life, formed by paths taken and untaken. Choosing a job, getting married, deciding on a place to live or whether to have children—every decision precludes another. But what if you'd gone the other way? From Robert Frost to Sharon Olds, Virginia Woolf to Ian McEwan, Jane Hirshfield to Carl Dennis, storytellers of every stripe consider the roads not taken, the lives we haven't led. What is it that compels us to identify with fictional and poetic voices tantalizing us with the shadows of what might have been? Not only poets and novelists, but psychologists and philosophers have much to say on this question. Miller finds wisdom in all of these, revealing the beauty, the allure, and the danger of sustaining or confronting our unled lives. "Miller is charming company, both humanly and intellectually. He is onto something: the theme of unled lives, and the fascinating idea that fiction intensifies the sense of provisionality that attends all lives. An extremely attractive book." —James Wood "An expertly curated tour of regret and envy in literature...Miller's insightful and moving book—both in his own discussion and in the tales he recounts—gently nudges us toward consolation." —Wall Street Journal "I wish I had written this book...Examining art's capacity to transfix, multiply, and compress, this book is itself a work of art." —Times Higher Education The Complete Poems of Robert Frost Faber & Faber Originally published as: Mountain Interval. New York: H. Holt and Co., 1916.
