for all the women who thought they were Mad
Samuel French, Inc.
THE STORY: When two
frustrated London
housewives decide to rent a villa in Italy for a holiday away from their bleak marriages,
they recruit two very different English
women to share the cost and the experience. There,

among the wisteria
blossoms a
One for the Road
Samuel French, Inc.
First published in 1983, Harold Pinter is an original study into the work of one of Britain's foremost dramatists.
The book celebrates Pinter's elusiveness as a writer. It considers his position as a
specifically contemporary writer of the post-modernist
tradition, and explores his use of language as a sophisticated means of non-communication, acting as a smokescreen behind which his characters lie. The book presents the language games used by Pinter according to their strategic importance, beginning with his earlier works and suggesting a chronological progression. It also discusses Pinter's later developments, such as the screenplay for The French Lieutenant's Woman. Harold Pinter is ideal for anyone with an interest in the work and literary techniques of contemporary writers and dramatists. Grove/Atlantic, Inc. Examines the basis of Harold Pinter's tense comedy and how it functions in his plays as well as covering the major drama from The Room to Other Places. Diamond argues that the metaphysical fear and emptiness so characteristic of the Pinter situation are inseparable from his use and abuse of literary and popular comic traditions.

The Acid Test Chatto & Windus

This collection of seventeen critical essays commemorates 25 years of writing by Harold Pinter. The essays are original pieces by many of the leading contemporary drama scholars in American and Britain which, taken together, present a fuller picture of the dramatist's canon and a better understanding of what he tries to do and how he tries to do it.

Cult heroine Zawe

Ashton brings us a unique look at life, work and the absurdities of contemporary life. Zawe Ashton has been acting since she was six. She has played many different roles, from 'cute little girl' to 'assassin with attitude', Oscar Wilde's Salome to St Trinian's schoolgirl to Fresh Meat's Vod. To stay sane, an actor must tread a high-wire between life and art, keep sight of where a character ends and the real person begins. So she doesn't lose herself completely. In Character Breakdown, Zawe scrolls through a version of her life. Or is it a version of her art? Or something in between. In it, she encounters glamour, horror, absurdity and questions like: is a life spent more on performance than reality any life at all? Pinter's Comic Play Betrayal The subject of 'Betrayal' is not sex, not even adultery, but the politics of betrayal and the damage it inflicts on all involved. It was first staged at the National Theatre in 1978. One for the Road Far less expensive than comparable guides, Reading and Writing about Literature: A Portable Guide is an ideal supplement for writing courses where literature anthologies and individual literary works that lack writing instruction are assigned. This brief guide introduces strategies for reading literature, explains the writing process and common writing assignments for literature courses, provides instruction in writing about fiction, poetry, and drama, and includes coverage of writing a research paper and of literary criticism and theory. This volume in the popular Bedford/St. Martin's series of Portable Anthologies and Guides offers a trademark combination of high quality and great value.

Bloomsbury Publishing
In a drama set in two bedrooms and a dark space, a man on his deathbed reviews his life, loves, and betrayals with his wife, while his two conspiratorial and emotionless sons sit in the shadows rationalizing their love-hate relationship with their now dying father and their inability to take steps to end the estrangement.

THE STORY: Samuel Gentle, the groundskeeper for The Church of the Holy Comforter, has heard God's call three times. The first was in a field off the Pamet Roads in Truro while accompanying his father on a walk; the second was in the aftermath of a Script Analysis for Performers Bloomsbury Publishing “they like to see us fall to slip on branches full of fruit we have not tasted” Lately, it's small things. Pop songs. The radio. Every day, anguish becomes madness. Call on your family. Call on the ancestors. Can they guide you home? “we are pearl and earth

and root we know
ourselves to be natural and complete carved
from rock that floats
but we should still be careful what we wish
for some of us can sink in the upstream” for all the women who
thought they were Mad
is an urgent piece of theatre examining the myriad of forces that collide and conspire against women of colour in Britain today.

Ashes to Ashes

University Press of Kentucky

A long running Off-Broadway hit by the author of Reckless and God's Heart. Before, during and after a Manhattan dinner
party, the guests are revealed with touching comic irony as a cross-section of modern day humanity. The colorful cast includes a

narcissistic actor, a
parachute instructor,
an aspiring songwriter,
a secretary and a
lesbian couple.

“A fascinating work . . .
possessing
extraordinary power.
Masterful.” —San Francisco Chronicle “Brilliant, cranky, and eccentric, and the narrative passages are some of the most thrilling ever written.”

—Library Journal

“Some of the author’s most enduring
themes—notably,
sexual jealousy and
betrayal—are present. .
. . The narration shows traces of writers as various as Joyce and Beckett, e.e. cummings
and J.P. Donleavy.”

—The Washington Post

“The Abbott and Costello meet Samuel Beckett dialogue . . .

makes you laugh out loud." —The Village Voice

The Actor's Script

Rutherford : Fairleigh Dickinson University Press ; London : Associated University Presses

Two short plays by Pinter. "Landscape" features a man and a woman in a kitchen, speaking, but not to one another. "Silence" is about a young woman and the two men she knows.

A Play in One Act

As Vladimir and Estragon await the arrival of Godot, they discuss their lives and consider hanging themselves, but choose to wait for Godot instead, in the hope that he can tell them their purpose.

Venus in Fur Grove Press

A boy tells about a story he wrote when dealing with his father's death about a savage kid living in a ruined chapel in the woods--and the tale about the savage kid coming to life in the real world.

The Dwarfs Grove Press

In 1956, Time magazine called Tennessee Williams' Baby Doll "just possibly the dirtiest American-made motion picture that has ever been legally exhibited." The taut, vivid drama of a voluptuous child-bridge, who refuses to consummate her marriage to an older, down-on-his-luck cotton-gin owner in Tiger Tail County, Mississippi until she is "ready," has gained in humor and pathos over the years as society has caught up with the author's savagely honest view of bigotry and lust in the rural South. But Tennessee Williams was first and foremost a writer for the stage, and this reissue of his original screenplay for the Elia Kazan movie of Baby Doll is now accompanied by the script of the full-length stage play, Tiger Tail, developed from that screenplay during the '70s. The text, which incorporates the author's final revisions, records the play as it was produced at the Hippodrome Theatre Workshop in Gainesville, Florida, in 1979.

The Films of Harold Pinter
Grove Press

Former high school buddies Frank, Swaino and Packie—now past their prime—meet off-hours one night in Frank's out-of-the-way repair shop under cloudy circumstances that only Frank seems to have a handle on. Enter Chad, a plugged-in, preppy college jock, whose arrival ignites a long-simmering resentment that sets this taut, twisty, comic thriller on its breathless course.

Small Engine Repair
Turtleback

Dramatizes the conversation between an interrogator and his victims, a father, mother, and young son, and includes an interview with the playwright about the play's theme
