The authors are indigenous and/or have been participants in the language-planning context. This volume contains monographs on Ecuador, Mexico and Paraguay, countries which are not well represented in the recent international language policy and planning literature, and draws together the existing published research in this field. El Movimiento por el sufragio femenino (Women's Suffrage Movement) The Rosen Publishing Group, Inc

This book is about the resilience of silvo-pastoral systems now, and in the future. As such, it is about people. The goal is to fill the gap in the knowledge on silvo-pastoral systems and their changing trends, by adding the human dimension, with enough detail to draw inferences about the new governance solutions that are needed to address the multiple challenges faced by silvo-pastoral systems. As such, the book provides knowledge applicable to current and future silvo-pastoral territories in other regions across the world. The volume is divided into three sections: people and institutions, the institutional framework, and governance models. Each section, composed of several chapters, draws on empirical work about the Iberian montado and dehesa as well as from other similar systems in the Mediterranean, both on the northern and on the southern sides, in order to broaden its scope and cover a wider range of situations and examples. Some of the chapters rely more strongly on empirical findings and current experiences, others on a literature review and reflection by the authors over many years working with these systems. The conclusion sums up the most relevant findings from each chapter and discusses how research can progress so that new scientific approaches and evidence can support better adapted governance models of silvopastoral systems to face future challenges. This text will be highly valuable to university and research institute libraries, academics, policy officials, and stakeholder groups, such as NGOs and sectoral organizations, who wish to better understand the relevance of the human factor and use this knowledge to find sustainable solutions. It will be a central reading for postgraduate students enrolled in rural planning, landscape management and governance, agronomy and forestry, as well as geography and socio-ecology programmes, that have a focus on sustainable land use management and supporting mixed farming systems.

Este estudio se centra en la representación y el significado de Madrid en la novelística de las primeras cuatro décadas del s. XX. Se establece el espacio social y su relación con el capitalismo simbólico para afirmar que no sólo Madrid es el corazón de la actividad financiera nacional, sino que también durante el período de la Edad de Plata se consagra como el gran centro cultural de España. El contexto del s. XX caracterizado por el capitalismo incipiente, los desajustes sociales, la violencia civil, unido a las guerras de Cuba, Filipinas, Marruecos, Monjuïc y una larga lista de rebeliones campesinas y huelgas repercuten directamente en la capital de España. Nacen en esta época los escritores profesionales y una industria cultural centrada en Madrid, que lee como autores "regionalistas" a quienes no son madrileños.
