Available in English for the very first time, In the Kitchen with Alain Passard is the first graphic novel to enter the kitchen of a master chef. Over the course of three years, illustrator Christophe Blain trailed acclaimed chef Alain Passard through his kitchens and gardens. With simple yet sublime drawings and thousands of colorful panels, this book gives the reader an inside, uncensored look at the world of Passard, who shocked the food universe in 2001 by removing meat from the menu at his celebrated Paris restaurant, L'Arpege, and dedicating himself to serving vegetables from his own organic farms. This irresistible hardcover combines a portrait of an amazing chef, an inside look at his creative process, and a humorous riff on fine dining culture—plus fifteen recipes for the home kitchen—in one haute cuisine comic book for foodies!

Le comte de Castel Bobèche refuse de vendre son château à une paire de promoteurs qui veulent le transformer en zone commerciale et en parking. Mais l'entretien d'une grand bâtisse comme celle-ci coûte cher, et le comte n'est pas en mesure d'y faire face. Sylvain et Sylvette ont alors l'idée d'organiser une grande fête médiévale pour gagner l'argent nécessaire. Mais évidemment, les Compères ont bien l'intention d'aider les vilains promoteurs à arriver à leurs fins.

La chasse au canard Macmillan Renard ne comprend pas pourquoi il échoue toujours à s'emparer des animaux de Sylvain et Sylvette. La lecture éclairée d'un périodique dans la salle d'attente d'un vétérinaire lui donne l'explication : c'est la malchance qui s'acharne contre lui ! Illustrant par l'exemple que c'est surtout d'être superstitieux qui porte malheur, Jean-Louis Pesch revient au dessin, sur un scénario de Belhomme dans ce 66e tome qui sort l'année des 80 ans des personnages créés par Maurice Cuvillier en 1941.

The Gold and Silver Road of Trade and Friendship Dark Horse Comics

Petula is a beautiful cow who smells nice, has pretty hair, and makes Ariol tremble when she's around. And even though Ariol's story so far is almost 400 pages long, he still hasn't worked up the courage to tell Petula that he loves her! Instead, he keeps accidentally saying all the wrong things every time she turns around to talk to him in class. Valiant Ariol is finally ready to make his move. Will he soar like Thunder Horse or plummet like, well, like Ariol? With charming artwork and hilarious vignettes, ARIOL is the perfect series for anyone who started off life as a kid!

Subjugués par les promesses de gloire et de bons repas du Marquis d'Escampette, les Compères disparaissent sans avertir personne. Si cela conviendrait plutôt à Sylvette, son frère Sylvain décide cependant de partir à leur recherche...

Jean-Louis Pesch signe le scénario de cette aventure pour le jeune Albair, qui réalise ici un rêve d'enfant en reprenant, avec maestria et dans le parfait style du maître, le dessin de cette série pour les petits et les grands. When British diplomats McLeod and Richardson set out on their missions to the Tai states in December 1836, their aim was trade and friendship. Captain William Couperus McLeod and Dr. David Richardson, both of the East India Company Madras Army, traveled from Moulmein on elephants, horses, and in the caravans of traders, to the present-day regions of the Shan States in Burma, northern Thailand, and Sipsong Panna in China. As the first Europeans to officially visit the region, they experienced some extraordinary social and cultural encounters. McLeod and Richardson had been in action in the first Anglo-Burmese War (1824-6) and had experience of other missions in Burma and Siam. They were fluent in Burmese and had a basic knowledge of Tai. They wrote superbly of their journeys and diplomatic exchanges.

Their journals are published here in full, with detailed notes, for the first time. The richness of their narratives, their records of scientific, social, and cultural detail, their engaging insights, and some prejudices, make this engrossing reading for the enthusiast of travel and adventure literature. More than this, it is an essential new resource for scholars of many kinds-historians, anthropologists, geographers, and botanists, to name a few. Grabowsky and Turton provide an analytical commentary on the journals, and on the conditions and contexts of their writing and subsequent use. The authors set the information in the journals in the context of indigenous Tai language sources. They also present completely new research on the British settlement in the Tenasserim Provinces of peninsular Burma, along with the biographies of McLeod and Richardson, who appear, for the first time, as three-dimensional individuals. This volume is a state-of-the-art example of how to make archival material like these journals, which are among the finest of the period, accessible to a broad audience. Volker Grabowsky is professor of South East Asian history at the Westfälische Wilhelms-Universität Münster. Andrew Turton is reader in anthropology at the School of Oriental and African Studies, University of London.
