A Time of Youth brings together 89 of the more than 2000 photographs William Gedney took in San Francisco's Haight-Ashbury neighborhood between October, 1966 and January, 1967, documenting the restless and intertwined lives of the disenchanting youth who flocked to what became the epicenter of 1960s counterculture.

Avedon Harper Collins

Una retrospectiva del trabajo de Richard Avedon en el mundo de la moda. Una obra fundamental, no sólo en el ámbito de la fotografía de la moda, sino también en el más amplio espectro de la fotografía de posguerra. Edición publicada conjuntamente con la exposición Avedon Fashion 1944-2000. Este libro abarca toda la carrera de Avedon en Harper's Bazaar, Vogue y The New Yorker, así como su obra para otras publicaciones y clientes. Hay fotografías de casi todas las épocas de su carrera en las revistas de moda, incluidas una serie de imágenes de las cuales no existían copias, que se han positivado de negativos y páginas de revistas. Durante su larga carrera Avedon concibió fotografías en las que la ropa y los accesorios tan sólo eran parte de lo que quería mostrar y expresar sobre las mujeres y la cultura que le rodeaba. La intensidad de las fotografías de moda de Avedon procede de una psicología compleja y ambivalente. Los aspectos más sombríos y que emocionalmente retan más su curiosidad sobre las personas resultan claramente perceptibles en los retratos y en los proyectos documentales que realizó en paralelo con sus fotografías de moda o relacionadas con ella.

"DECREAZIONE" is a book collecting Joseph Koudelka's images exhibited at the fifty-fifth Venice Biennale, at the Vatican Pavilion. With his suggestive black-and-white images and his moving, desolated landscapes, Koudelka tells stories of destruction, declined in three different forms: time, violence, and contrast between nature and uncontrolled industrial development. Josef Koudelka was born in Moravia in 1938. He published numerous photographic books on the relationship between man and landscape, about gypsy life, and on the invasion of Prague in 1968. Significant exhibitions of his works have been held at international museums and galleries and he received numerous major awards.

Pendant plus de deux décennies, Alessandra Sanguinetti a photographié la vie de Guillermina et Belinda, deux cousines vivant dans la campagne argentine, alors qu'elles traversaient l'enfance et la jeunesse vers la féminité. Ce volume, initialement publié en 2010 et réédité aujourd'hui comme le premier volet d'une trilogie, raconte les cinq premières années de leur collaboration. Les images de Sanguinetti dépeignent une enfance à la fois familière et exceptionnelle. Les terres agricoles de l'ouest de la province de Buenos Aires sont un mélange particulier de moderne et de traditionnel, où la vie est vécue en harmonie avec les animaux et les paysages accidentés. Dans ce contexte, Guille et Belinda traversent les rites d'enfance de se déguiser et de faire croire, d'explorer et de s'approprier le monde qui les entoure au fur et à mesure. Alors qu'elles glissent entre les rôles, se produisent alternativement pour et sont capturées par la caméra de Sanguinetti, le lien profond entre les deux filles est indéniable. A l'approche du précipice du début de l'adolescence, leurs jeux sont empreints du poids poignant de leurs rêves et de leurs désirs alors que le monde du jeu rencontre celui de la réalité. En dépeignant la vie des femmes et des filles dans le monde traditionnellement masculin des gauchos et agriculteurs argentins, le livre de Sanguinetti interroge les cadres de mythologies de toutes sortes, honorant des vies généralement invisibles. Les Aventures de Guille et Belinda est un portrait de l'enfance rurale à la fois calme et poétique, dans laquelle le fantastique et le banal sont intimement liés.

Avedon Fashion 1944 - 2000 Hatje Cantz Verlag

This is a major retrospective of the influential fashion photography of Richard Avedon, spanning nearly six decades. Encompassing six decades of extraordinary work, "Avedon Fashion 1944-2000" includes more than 200 works by Richard Avedon, from vintage prints and magazine layouts to contact sheets and personal correspondence. Showing Avedon's groundbreaking early work for Harper's Bazaar to his later work at "Vogue", "Egoiste" and "The New Yorker", this volume represents a major retrospective of the photographer's work. The book has been assembled by Carol Squiers, curator at the International Center of Photography and photography critic Vince Aletti.

Richard Avedon Rizzoli Publications

In the early 1960s, Richard Avedon was commissioned by Harper's Bazaar to create Observations, a column that consisted of a series of nine photographic essays. The subject of the first essay was John F. Kennedy and his young family, who sat for formal black-and-white portraits just three weeks prior to Kennedy's presidential inauguration. Six images appeared in the magazine's February 1961 issue. That same day, Avedon created more informal color portraits of Kennedy and his family at the Kennedy compound in Palm Beach. One of these images ran as the cover of LOOK magazine's February 28 issue, with photographs by Avedon inside. Just before the magazine hit the newsstands and was delivered to over 6.5 million people, a set of photographs, comprised mostly of the LOOK images, was released by the White House and appeared in newspapers across the country. During his lifetime, Richard Avedon donated more than two hundred images to the Smithsonian Institution, including all of the photographs of the Kennedy family sitting for Harper's Bazaar. Smithsonian curator Shannon Thomas Perich has culled more than seventy-five images from that donation for The Kennedys: Portrait of a Family, making these stunning photographs available for view for the first time. Perich's introductory essay—accompanied by a wealth of archival photographs of both Avedon and the Kennedy family—provides historical background on the two sittings within a political and cultural context and critically examines the work of one of the finest photographers of the twentieth century. A foreword by Robert Dallek, distinguished historian and author of the best-selling An Unfinished Life: John F. Kennedy, 1917-1963, provides authoritative and compelling insight to one of the most fascinating presidents in American history.

The Glass of Fashion Phaidon Press

An intimate biography of Richard Avedon, the legendary fashion and portrait photographer who "helped define America's image of style, beauty and culture" (The New York Times), by his longtime collaborator and business partner Norma Stevens and award-winning author Steven M. L. Aronson. Richard Avedon was arguably the world's most famous photographer—as artistically influential as he was commercially successful. Over six richly productive decades, he created landmark advertising campaigns, iconic fashion photographs (as the star photographer for Harper's Bazaar and then Vogue), groundbreaking books, and unforgettable portraits of everyone who was anyone. He also went on the road to find and photograph remarkable uncelebrated faces, with an eye toward constructing a grand composite picture of America. Avedon dazzled even his most dazzling subjects. He possessed a mystique so unique it was itself a kind of genius—everyone fell under his spell. But the Richard Avedon the world saw was perhaps his greatest creation: he relentlessly curated his reputation and controlled his image, managing to remain, for all his exposure, among the most private of celebrities. No one knew him better than did Norma Stevens, who for thirty years was his business partner and closest confidant. In Avedon: Something Personal—equal parts memoir, biography, and oral history, including an intimate portrait of the legendary Avedon studio—Stevens and co-author Steven M. L. Aronson masterfully trace Avedon's life from his birth to his death, in 2004, at the age of eighty-one, while at work in Texas for The New Yorker (whose first-ever staff photographer he had become in 1992). The book contains startlingly candid reminiscences by Mike Nichols, Calvin Klein, Claude Picasso, Renata Adler, Brooke Shields, David Remnick, Naomi Campbell, Twyla Tharp, Jerry Hall, Mikhail Baryshnikov, Bruce Weber, Cindy Crawford, Donatella Versace, Jann Wenner, and Isabella Rossellini, among dozens of others. Avedon: Something Personal is the confiding, compelling full story of a man who for half a century was an enormous influence on both high and popular culture, on both fashion and art—to this day he remains the only artist to have had not one but two retrospectives at the Metropolitan Museum of Art during his lifetime. Not unlike Richard Avedon's own defining portraits, the book delivers the person beneath the surface, with all his contradictions and complexities, and in all his touching humanity.

Gorgeously repackaged, this reissue of the classic book presents the iconic photographer's expert and witty reminiscences of the personalities who inspired fashion's golden eras, and left an indelible mark on his own sense of taste and style. "The camera will never be invented that could capture or encompass all that he actually sees," Truman Capote once said of Cecil Beaton. Though known for his portraits, Beaton was as incisive a writer as he was a photographer. First published in 1954, The Glass of Fashion is a classic—an invaluable primer on the history and highlights of fashion from a man who was a chronicler of taste, and an intimate compendium of the people who inspired his legendary eye. Across eighteen chapters, complemented by more than 150 of his own line drawings, Beaton writes with great wit about the influence of luminaries such as Chanel, Balenciaga, and Dior, as well as relatively unknown muses like his Aunt Jessie, who gave him his first glimpse of "the grown-up world of fashion." Out of print for decades but recognized and sought after as a touchstone text, The Glass of Fashion will be irresistible to a new generation of fashion enthusiasts and a seminal book in any Beaton library. It is both a treasury and a treasure.
