Moving to America turns H&A's life inside out. For all the 10 years of her life, H&A has only known Saigon: the thrills of its markets, the joy of its traditions, the warmth of her friends close by, and the beauty of her very own papaya tree. But now the Vietnam War has reached her home. Hà and her family are forced to flee as Saigon falls, and they board a ship headed toward hope. In America, Hà discovers the foreign world of Alabama: the coldness of its strangers, the dullness of its food, the strange shape of its landscape, and the strength of her very own family. This is the moving story of one girl's year of change, dreams, grief, and healing as she journeys from one country to another, one life to the next.

The story of the novella follows the life of Daisy, a young girl who finds solace in writing letters to Anne Frank during the war.

Daisy's past is dark, filled with the horrors of war and the loss of loved ones. Through her letters, she seeks comfort and understanding, finding solace in the words of a kindred spirit who lived in equally turbulent times. As Daisy pours her heart out to Anne, the reader is taken on an emotional journey of loss, hope, and resilience. As a writer, I have always been drawn to stories of the human spirit triumphing over adversity.
