This book brings together psychometric, cognitive science, policy, and content domain perspectives on new approaches to educational assessment -- in particular, constructed response, performance testing, and portfolio assessment. These new assessment approaches -- a full range of alternatives to traditional multiple-choice tests -- are useful in all types of large-scale testing programs, including educational admissions, school accountability, and placement. This book's multi-disciplinary perspective identifies the potential advantages and pitfalls of these new assessment forms, as well as the critical research questions that must be addressed if these assessment methods are to benefit education.

From Testing to Assessment: English as an International Language provides a critical review of conventional and alternative approaches to the assessment of English literacy skills in various parts of the world. It presents empirical studies conducted in three major settings: in countries such as Japan and Brazil where English functions as the language of international commerce; in multilingual countries such as Nigeria and Zimbabwe where English is the national language of education and government; and in such countries as Canada, the United Kingdom and the United States where English is the dominant language. The book opens with a discussion of language assessment in relation to debates about the nature of literacy; it concludes with a discussion of policy implications, which is grounded in literacy theory as well as in practical constraints such as available human and material resources.

Generative Intelligence and Intelligent Tutoring Systems Kaplan AEC Architecture

This book is structured around a series of multiple-choice questions covering key concepts in cell biology. Each chapter is devoted to a specific aspect of cellular biology, providing a focused approach to learning and assessment. The questions are meticulously crafted to challenge and engage readers, encouraging critical thinking and problem-solving skills. The topics covered in this book span the breadth of cell biology, from the basics of plasma membrane structure to the complexities of cancer biology and molecular signaling pathways. Whether you are preparing for graduate or postgraduate level exams, or simply seeking to deepen your understanding of cellular biology, this book offers a valuable resource for self-assessment and review.

Neurology Kaplan AEC Architecture

Mount Sinai Expert Guides: Neurology provides trainees in neurology with an extremely clinical and accessible handbook covering the major neurologic disorders and symptoms, their diagnosis and clinical management. Perfect as a point-of-care resource on the hospital wards and also as a refresher for board exam preparation, the focus throughout is on providing rapid reference, essential information on each disorder to allow for quick, easy browsing and assimilation of the must-know information. All chapters follow a consistent template including the following features: An opening bottom-line/key points section Classification, pathogenesis and prevention of disorder Evidence-based diagnosis, including relevant algorithms, laboratory and imaging tests, and potential pitfalls when diagnosing a patient Disease management including commonly used medications with dosages, management algorithms and how to prevent complications How to manage special populations, ie, in pregnancy, children and the elderly The very latest evidence-based results, major society guidelines and key external sources to consult In addition, the book comes with a companion website housing extra features such as case studies with related questions for self-assessment, key patient advice and ICD codes. Each guide also has its own mobile app available for purchase, allowing you rapid access to the key features wherever you may be. If you're specialising in neurology and require concise, practical and clinical guidance from one of the world's leading institutions in this field, then this is the perfect book for you.

This book provides a comprehensive overview of the two important issues relating to disease in elderly: the age-related changes and the pathophysiology of the diseases. The book contains 19 chapters that are arranged by organ system and structured to cover the specific areas for a quick but in-depth understanding of diseases in aging patients. Unlike any other book on the market, this text is concise and yet thorough in approach to the stipulated areas. This book includes multiple-choice questions that reinforce the concepts that are most vital to understanding and treating geriatric patients, making it an outstanding resource on its own or as a companion to larger geriatric texts. Diseases in the Elderly is the ultimate resource for geriatricians, medical students, primary care physicians, hospital doctors, geriatric nurses, and all other medical professionals treating and diagnosing diseases in elderly patients.

Student Study Guide IGI Global

A Video Atlas of Neuromuscular Disorders includes nearly 300 video cases directly from a neuromuscular clinic, illustrating a myriad of disorders and shedding light on their diagnosis and treatment. By replacing extensive text with vivid illustrative videos, the reader can focus on, the intellectual challenges of these, cases instead of attempting to build, a mental picture of the cases first. Concise video 'clips from real' clinic stories supplemented with challenging multiple choice questions provide an excellent way to bridge the gap between overflow of information and short attention spans. Arranged by symptoms instead of diseases for efficient reference, this essential atlas is perfect for preparing for the neurology and neuromuscular boards, and is an excellent resource for updating general neurologists and practitioners.
