The Wordy Book
Doubleday Books for Young Readers
What happens when words and pictures live completely on top of each other, bump into

each other, and talk together? How might words paint a bird,
while the bird sings the words?

When it Comes to

Critical Survey of Poetry Millbrook Press (Tm)

Do rabbits have Christmas? Do rabbits get presents? Do they have secrets and smiles on their faces? Aileen Fisher addresses these and other child-friendly questions in this sparkling collection of wintertime poems. Sarah Fox-Davies's charming art brings each delightful poem to life, and with an introduction by acclaimed poet Karla Kuskin, Do Rabbits Have Christmas? is a sweet, snowy read for children and rabbits alike! This picture book is best viewed on a tablet device.

Children's Book of

Poetry HarperCollins Publishers

Sing a Song of Seasons is a lavishly illustrated collection of 366 nature poems — one for every day of the year. Filled with familiar favorites and new discoveries written by a wide variety of poets, including William Shakespeare, Emily Dickinson, John Updike, Langston Hughes, N. M. Bodecker, Okamoto Kanoko, and many more, this is the perfect book for children (and grown-ups!) to share at the beginning or the end of the day.

All on a Mountain Day

Mondo Pub

"From raccoons to garter snakes, water striders to diving beetles, wetland inhabitants are brought to life in this remarkable collection for all ages." -- Page [4] cover.

After a Bath Boyds Mills Press

A collection of short poems about baby animals includes

"Penguin Chick, " "Baby Monkey, " and "Alligator Children." The Story Goes On Astra Publishing House
J. Patrick Lewis did not come under poetry's spell until late in life—but when it struck, the former college economics professor was entranced. This collection celebrates some of his best poems for children—some silly, some serious, some historical, some invention, but all aimed to delight. The vibrant and playful illustrations of Italian artist Maria Cristina Pritelli lend a sense of vitality to the words, underscoring the idea that Everything Is a Poem.
Sing a Song of Seasons Turtleback Collection of ten poems about the weather for children, including rain showers, sun, and fog.

Eloise Wilkin's Poems to Read to the Very Young

Viking Juvenile
Twenty-four short poems about cats and kittens.

Let's Count the Raindrops Wordsong

A little boy, who yearns for the weather to be warm enough so he can go barefoot, thinks about all the animals that go barefoot all year 'round.

I Heard a Bluebird Sing

HarperCollins
Children's Books
An illustrated collection of children's poetry which celebrates the lives of a wide variety of animals.

Polar Bear, Arctic Hare

Dorling Kindersley Ltd
Describes in verse what happens to a variety of animals during fall and winter.

Words with Wings

Enchanted Lion Books
An illustrated poem about the cycle of life-- bug eats plant, frog eats bug, snake eats frog, hawk eats snake, and so on.

In the Middle of the Night Ty Crowell

Company
Describes the lives of nine animals on a summer day in the mountains as, predator or prey, they seek safety and security for themselves and their young. Traces the activities of the snowshoe rabbit, dusky grouse, porcupine, marmot, coyote, pack rat, water ouzel, mule deer, and bobcat.
