Now in its 25th edition, the content has been thoroughly revised and updated while retaining its traditional strengths. Under the stewardship of the eminent editorial team, comprising two editors with experience gained over previous editions and a third editor new to this edition, and in response to reader feedback, the content has been sub-divided into parts to ensure a logical sequence and grouping of related chapters throughout while the text features enthusiastically received in the last edition have been retained. The new edition opens with sections devoted to the underlying principles of surgical practice, investigation and diagnosis, and pre-operative care. These are followed by chapters covering all aspects of surgical trauma. The remainder of the book considers each of the surgical specialties in turn, from elective orthopaedics through skin, head and neck, breast and endocrine, cardiothoracic and vascular, to abdominal and genitourinary. This book is about how I perceived ayurveda. The aim is to explain ayurveda with an integrated perspective. As a subject of health, it should not be a masquerade forever. A candid presentation is the recent need of ayurveda. The book is for the new generation who learn ayurveda and is about how it should be looked in the modern period. It is explained with the support of all the philosophies on which ayurveda is based. The importance of mind body concept and the need of phytochemistry in ayurveda syllabus also is emphasized. Dr. K.A. Latheef dr. K.A. Latheef is a senior ayurvedic practitioner since 1986. He had graduated both in botany and ayurveda from farook college, and vaidyaratnarn p.S. Warriar ayurveda college, kottakkal respectively, under the university of calicut, kerala. Distasting the orthodox philosophical explanation of health and disease in ayurveda he started learning it analytically. According to him the 5000 years old concepts in a medical syllabus deprived the rights of the so far scientifically educated students to know the developing health science. He debated on the need of exploring ayurveda applying contemporary knowledge. This book is a reflection of those experiences.
