3. Teilband Routledge

This new collection investigates German literature in its international dimensions. While no single volume can deal comprehensively with such a vast topic, the nine contributors cover a wide historical range, with a variety of approaches and authors represented. Together, the essays begin to adumbrate the systematic nature of the relations between German national literature and world literature as these have developed through institutions, cultural networks, and individual authors. In the last two decades, discussions of world literature-literature that resonates beyond its original linguistic and cultural contexts—have come increasingly to the forefront of theoretical investigations of literature. One reason for the explosion of world literature theory, pedagogy and methodology is the difficulty of accomplishing either world literature criticism, or world literary history. The capaciousness, as well as the polylingual and multicultural features of world literature present formidable obstacles to its study, and call for a collaborative approach that conjoins a variety of expertise. To that end, this collection contributes to the critical study of world literature in its textual, institutional, and translational reality, while at the same time highlighting a question that has hitherto received insufficient scholarly attention: what is the relation between national and world literatures, or, more specifically, in what senses do national literatures systematically participate in (or resist) world literature?

Otto Höfler (1901–1987) was an Austrian Germanist and Scandinavianist. His research on ‘Germanic culture’, in particular on Germanic Männerbünde (men’s bands), was controversial and remains a topic of academic debate. In modern discourse, Höfler’s theories are often fundamentally rejected on account of his involvement in the National Socialist movement and his contribution to the research initiatives of the SS Ahnenerbe, or they are adopted by scholars who ignore his problematic methodologies and the ideological and political elements of his work. The present study takes a comprehensive approach to Höfler’s research on ‘Germanic culture’ and analyses his characterisation of the ‘Germanic peoples’, contextualising his research in the backdrop of German philological studies of the early twentieth century and highlighting elements of his theories that are still the topic of modern academic discourse. A thorough analysis of his main research theses, focusing on his Männerbund-research, reveals that his concept of 'Germanic culture' is underscored by a belief in the deep-seated religiosity of the 'Germanic peoples' formed through sacred-daemonic forces.

Committed Sensations - An Initiation to Homosexuality Springer Science & Business Media

The 20th century was a revolutionary period in art history. In the span of a few short years, Modernism exploded into being, disrupting centuries of classical figurative tradition to create something entirely new. This astoundingly thorough survey of art's modern era showcases all of the key artistic movements of the 20th century, from Fauvism to Pop Art, featuring illustrative examples of some of the most renowned works of the era along with illuminating companion essays by expert critics and art historians. A vivid window into the collective psyche of the modern world's great artists, Art of the 20th Century is a must-have for any fan of contemporary art. Publicly Traded Family Businesses Yale

Was 'weiß' die Disziplin Erziehungswissenschaft zu 'Erziehung' - dem Begriff, der unwidersprochen im Kern

erziehungswissenschaftlichen Wissens steht?

Die vorliegende Studie fragt zum einen nach den in erziehungswissenschaftlichen Fachlexika aus knapp hundert Jahren tradierten Wissensbeständen zu

Erziehung und zum anderen nach der Disziplin, die in diesem Erziehungswissen sichtbar wird. Die das Erziehungswissen konturierenden Wissensbestände werden auf drei Ebenen - (1.) der des rahmenden Lexikons, (2.) der der mit 'Erziehung' verknüpften Explikanda, und (3.) der der konkret dem Gegenstand 'Erziehung' gewidmeten Explikationen - seriell untersucht. Darüber hinaus werden (4.) die in den Explikationen aufgespannten personalen, textuellen und thematischen Referenzräume analysiert. Die quantifizierende Auswertung der Wissensbestände - wie u. a. lexikalische Daten und Metadaten, Daten von Herausgebern und Autoren, Wörter, Verweise, Personenennungen, Zitate und Literaturangaben -, wird kombiniert mit einer qualitativ-inhaltsanalytischen Rekonstruktion von Wissenskonfigurationen, wie sie sich in Vor-, Geleit- und Nachworten sowie in Spitzen- und Grenzformulierungen der Explikationen der Erziehungslemmata zeigen. Herausgearbeitet werden Konjunkturen, (Dis)Kontinuitäten, Aneignungen und Grenzmarkierungen disziplinären Wissens zu 'Erziehung' von 1895 bis 1989 - einem Zeitraum, in dem die deutschsprachige Erziehungswissenschaft sich als universitär verankerte, forschende Disziplin institutionalisiert, etabliert, spezialisiert und diversifiziert. Finding a Voice Walter de Gruyter Boundaries, borders and margins are related concepts and realities, and each of these can be conceptualized and organized in closed or open ways—with degrees of closure or openness. The logics of stasis and closure, as well as cults of exclusivist and exclusionary sovereignty, are reflected and embodied in the closed xenophobic conceptualization and organization of boundaries, borders and margins. But, an open conceptualization of the borderlands, where mixing and hybridity take place at a rapid, even dizzying, pace, gives rise to Creolization—at the threshold of sovereignties, which can also be imagined. At present, our border zones are spaces of anxiety-ridden security arrangements, violence and death. The existing politics of boundary maintenance is wedded to a cult of sovereignty at various levels, which produces bare lives, bodies and lands. We need the new art of border-crossing to be defined by the notion of camaraderie and shared sovereignties and non-sovereignties. Border zones can also be zones of meetings, communication, transcendence and festive celebration of the limits of our identities. Thus, we need a new art and politics of boundary transmutation, transformation and transcendence, in the broadest possible sense, that entails the production of spatial, scalar, somatic, cognitive, affective and spiritual transitions.

 Die Arbeit bildet den ersten umfassenden Beitrag zur Fachsprache der Ökologie und des Umweltschutzes. Sie basiert auf den Methoden der neueren Fachsprachenforschung. Weitere Anhaltspunkte bieten die Erkenntnisse der Lexikografie, Semantik, Pragmatik, Textsortenlinguistik, Wortbildungsforschung und Kontrastivität. Ökologie und Umweltschutz stellen zusammen ein horizontal und vertikal in hohem Maße differenziertes Fachgebiet dar. Auch bezüglich der Anwendungssituationen ist die ökologische Fachsprache vertikal mannigfaltig geschichtet. Daraus folgt, dass sich auch die Vielfalt der relevanten Textsorten auf dem Gebiet als sehr groß erweist. Einer näheren Analyse wird die Textsorte Umweltwörterbuch unterzogen. Im Vordergrund der Wortschatz-Betrachtung stehen semantische Verfälschungen in fachexterner Kommunikation, Euphemismen und der kaum diskutierte Aspekt der Mehrfachbenennung. End Game Walter de Gruyter

This book aims at investigating from the perspective of the major economic dictionaries the notions of economic crisis and cycle. The project consists in giving an extensive summary of a number of significant entries on this subject, with an introductory essay to each entry placing them (and the dictionary to which they belong) in their context, giving some details on the author of the dictionary entry, and assessing the entry's (and its author's) contribution. The broad picture (including the history of these encyclopedic tools) will be examined in the introductory essays.

Architect, designer, and theorist Josef Frank (1885-1967) was known throughout Europe in the 1920s as one of the continent's leading modernists. Yet despite his important contributions to the development of modernism, Frank has been largely excluded from histories of the movement. Josef Frank: Life and Work is the first study that comprehensively explores the life, ideas, and designs of this complex and controversial figure. Educated in Vienna just after the turn of the century, Frank became the leader of the younger generation of architects in Austria after the First World War. But Frank fell from grace when he emerged as a forceful critic of the extremes of modern architecture and design during the early 1930s.

Dismissing the demands for a unified modern style, Frank insisted that it was pluralism, not uniformity, that most characterized life in the new machine age. He called instead for a more humane modernism, one that responded to people's everyday needs and left room for sentimentality and historical influences. He was able to put these ideas into practice when, in 1933, he was forced to leave

Vienna for Sweden.

There his work came to define Swedish (or Scandinavian) modern design. For more than thirty years he was the chief designer for the Stockholm furnishings firm Svenskt Tenn, producing colorful, cozy, and eclectic designs that provided a refreshing alternative to the architectural mainstream of the day and presaged the coming revolt against modernism in the 1960s. In this sensitive study of one of the twentieth century's seminal architects and thinkers, Christopher Long offers new insight into Josef Frank's work and ideas and provides an important contribution to the understanding of modernist culture and its history.

The contributors of this volume demonstrate how a highly developed expertise in interpreting Biblical and cognate literature is a substantial part of the overall discourse on the historical, literary, social, political, and religious dimensions of trauma in past and present. This idea is based on the assumption that trauma is not only a modern concept which derives from 20th century psychiatry: It is an ancient phenomenon already which predates modern discourses. Trauma studies will thus profit from how Theology - specifically Biblical exegesis - and the Humanities deal with trauma in terms of religion, history, sociology, and politics.

This volume has been published to commemorate the 850th anniversary of Loccum Abbey near Hanover. Members of the Abbey and befriended scholars investigate the foundation and the major stages in the history of the Abbey. With the Reformation the properous Cistercian abbey was converted into an evangelical monastery. The abbots gained extensive political influence and the Abbey ran a seminary for preachers. The volume includes studies on the foundation of the Abbey, on the medieaval veneration of the saints, on the introduction of the Reformation and its subsumption under the principality of Calenberg. It concludes with observations on the work of a preacher seminary and on the future training of theologians.

Same-sex relationships have always existed and will always exist. That is normal. For several years, social research has dealt extensively with same-sex partnerships of lesbian and gay couples as well as with homosexuality and the coming-out of young Lesbians and Gays. Every second man has sex and orgasm experiences with another man, reports Alfred Kinsey, empirical sexologist. This Handbook and Compendium "Committed Sensations" is not only about help and ways for a personal coming-out and a successful identity development with regard to everyday questions like how to build up a network of queer friends, but at the political level it also summarizes topics like e.g. gay-lesbian family politics, state marriage and church weddings - and as well it is about fostering discussions for the central keynotes of lesbian and gay couples within the last 50 years of gay-lesbian movement.
