Competitive
eating vies
with family
expectations

in a funny,
heartfelt novel
for middle-grade readers
by National Book Award
winner Pete
Hautman.
David can eat
an entire sixteen-inch
pepperoni
pizza in four minutes and thirty-six seconds. Not
bad. But he knows he can do better. In fact, he'll have

to do better:
he's going to compete in the Super Pigorino Bowl,
the world's greatest pizza-eating
contest, and he has to win
it, because he borrowed his mom's credit card and accidentally put $2,000 on it. So he really needs that prize money. Like, yesterday. As if training to be a competitive eater weren't enough, he's also got to keep an eye on his little brother, Mal (who, if the family believed in labels, would be labeled autistic, but they don't, so they just label him Mal). And don't even get started on the new weirdness going on between his two best friends, Cyn and HeyMan. Master talent Pete Hautman has whipped up a rich narrative shot through with equal parts humor and tenderness, and the result is a middle-grade novel too delicious to put down. Loom Beading Patterns and Techniques Emmaus Road Publishing VIRGIN VIOLET. That's what they'd call her. Well, not for long. With sex being all anyone ever talks about, Violet takes the first opportunity she sees to lose her v-card, and it was... ..fine? High school is hard enough as it is. It's even harder when you spend every day pretending to fit in, but if you lie over and over again, eventually it becomes the truth, right? In her debut novel, Brianna Rae Quinn tells a coming-of-age tale about asexuality and the struggle to come to terms with personal identity.
