Every Business Is God's Business The notion that labor for profit and worship of God are now, and always have been, worlds apart, is patently false. The Early Church founders were mostly community leaders and highly successful businesspeople. The writing of the Gospels was entrusted to Luke, a medical doctor; Matthew, a retired tax collector; Mark, the manager of a family trust; and John, a food supplier. Lydia was "a dealer in purple cloth." Dorcas was a clothes designer. In this expanded version of the bestselling Anointed for Business, Ed Silvoso focuses on the heart of our cities, which is the marketplace. Yet the perceived wall between commercial pursuit and service to God continues to be a barrier to advancing His kingdom. Silvoso shows Christians how to knock down that wall--and participate in an unparalleled marketplace transformation. Only then can we see God's kingdom invade every corner of our world. Readers will appreciate Silvoso's passionate call to men and women in the workplace to rise to their God-appointed positions. The included study guide will enable the reader to put these revolutionary concepts into action.

Inspiration from the book of Hebrews on how to live by faith in Jesus. As Christians, we experience great joy in knowing God through Jesus and great hope in the promise of an eternity spent with God. Yet we still get weary in this life and can feel discouraged. Whether it's personal disappointment, opposition or just the costly grind of church life that gets us down, we all need help to keep going. This wonderfully encouraging book by Bible expositor Richard Coekin will spur you on to live by faith in Jesus as you examine the witnesses of Hebrews 11. The refreshing honesty of their stories will help you manage your expectations in a world of lies and spin. They will remind you of the glory and blessing that await you at the finishing line. And they will encourage you to see that Jesus is the real Hero of the faith and that his Spirit will enable you to endure through exhaustion, opposition and discouragement. Ideal for private devotional reading for those in need of refreshment, a timely gift for a discouraged Christian friend, and useful background reading to a small-group study of Hebrews 11.

United States Catholic Catechism for Adults Thomas Nelson

Walking in the Prophetic Anointing is not just a catch phrase or a magic potion that is poured on you. In fact, it is constantly living in the presence of God, so that you will be able to fulfill God's call and purpose on your life. Walking in the Prophet Anointing also does not mean that you will not experience problems. On the contrary, you will encounter battles, after battles in your life. David who was anointed to be the next king of Israel had many close calls with death despite him being anointed by God. Despite the challenges we face in our lives; God still expect us to fulfill the mandate that he has given us.

Walking in the prophetic anointing also requires us to live a life of consecration, prayer and fasting, so we can maintain the presence of God in our lives. Failure to do this will result in us not being able to accomplish the purpose for which we were created. I am often reminded of Luke 4:18, "The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because He hath anointed me to preach the Gospel to the poor. He hath sent me to heal the brokenhearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised."

Therefore, let us continue to walk in the prophetic anointing so that we will be able to fulfill our calling through Christ Jesus.

A profound exploration of how to hold on to hope when our unchanging faith collides with a changing culture, from two respected Christian storytellers and thought leaders. "Offers neither spin control nor image maintenance for the evangelical tribe, but genuine hope."—Russell Moore, president of ERLC As the pressures of health warnings, economic turmoil, and partisan politics continue to rise, the influence of gospel-focused Christians seems to be waning. In the public square and popular opinion, we are losing our voice right when it's needed most for Christ's glory and the common good. In Gospelbound, Collin Hansen and Sarah Eekhoff Zylstra counter these growing fears with a robust message of resolute hope for anyone hungry for good news. Join them in exploring profound stories of Christians who are quietly changing the world in the name of Jesus—from the wild world of digital media to the stories of ancient saints and unsung contemporary activists on the frontiers of justice and mercy. Excerpt from The Hope of His Calling: Or the Anointed Life The experience of spiritual people is identical except in degree. There is, in fact, but one highway of holiness, but it has many mile boards, and men have made many side tracks about it. The Christian life from alpha to omega is a given life - a life from God - and it is exactly the same in every one, so far as the experiences involved in it are concerned. It has a beginning, and ordinarily a long line of development. Jesus' life - the substance of spiritual life - is a distinctive and perfectly defined thing in the world of spiritual entities. If we walk "even as He walked," we must of necessity walk as each other walks. If we walk "in His steps," our feet must all alike press the same footprints. Now, we may tramp around a great deal, and make many tracks of our own in getting to and trying to follow this life, but none of these side tracks are of course any part of the divine life in us. If in every instance the servant is to be "as his master," then the various servants must in that respect be alike themselves, and in that respect only are they truly Christian. Christian experience therefore is, and ever has been, an identical experience in all its details. The way from a "babe in Christ" to a full grown man in Christ, is a way that has undergone no changes in all the ages. It has no forks, nor high cuts, nor parallels. It is one way - the "straight and narrow way," so straight and narrow that his feet who travels it must fall successively in the footprints of Jesus, and of all who have followed Him in the past. Do you want to experience more spiritual power in your life? Do you want to break the yokes and bondage in your life and those around you? Are you tired and frustrated with the old routine of going to church with the narration of the power of God without the demonstration of the power? In The Anointing, author Apostle Ese Duke offers a reverential look at the anointing of the Holy Spirit, the supernatural power of God that gives a believer the ability to fulfil their God given purpose. Apostle Ese Duke discusses: what the anointing is; how to prepare to receive the anointing; the levels and dimensions of the anointing; the laws operating the anointing; the difference between the anointing within and the anointing upon; how the anointing functions and grows; how to release the anointing; and how to keep the anointing flowing and many more impactful, life-changing teachings. The Anointing presents a look at God's power working in an ordinary man to bring about the supernatural in the lives and affairs of men.

Exploring intellectual authority within evangelicalism, the authors reveal how the concept of anointing—being chosen by God to speak for him—established a conservative evangelical leadership isolated from secular arts and sciences.
