Most adults are familiar with the quote "a picture is worth a thousand words," which coincides with the intent of this book to share my astonishing experiences with mostly color pictures. While writing this book, I enjoyed revisiting some of the pictures you are about to see as you stroll through the ten chapters. I decided to write each chapter chronologically; however, the document consists of selected noteworthy topics covering my grade school days until the present time. This document presented an opportunity to share how a Black male moved through local, state, and national systems that discriminated against minorities. I recorded my astonishing experiences, from being raised in Clinton Park, to moving to upscale Timber Crest, to serving in the military, to coping with employment, surviving three marriages, and holding membership in four churches. These experiences provide exceptional peace and joy to my life as well trouble and sorrow as I have lived beyond seventy years old. God's grace and mercy carried me to where I am, and with great delight, I present to you my astonishing life experiences.

During the construction of the Erie Canal in the early 1820s, the population of Western New York increased 145 percent. Many of these pioneers were European immigrants, with a high concentration hailing from the German-speaking states. These immigrants brought their Lutheran ideals and continued to practice the religion in their new homeland. By 1827, the first official Lutheran church in Erie County had been incorporated as the German Reformed Church, known today as St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Eggertsville. Soon after, the need for mission churches arose, and by the mid-1800s, Lutheran congregations had been established in several Western New York suburbs. During the following century, the Lutherans in Western New York would undergo growth and change. While all congregations eventually abandoned German as their primary language, many struggled to further separate from their German roots during the Nazi regime. Today, there are nearly 200 Lutheran congregations in New York.

Of all the many autobiographies and memoirs that I have read through the years, this one by Percy Licardo Moore is far and away one of the most unique among them in its arrangement, aspects, and accents. This book, Personal and Professional Recollections 1940-2012, appealingly introduces Dr. Moore's life, his work, and his major interests, allied with many personal photographs, and also offers some highly readable essays whose content help to augment and illumine its rich narrative. Percy Ricardo Moore has recorded far more here than personal details regarding his family background, his education, determinative encounters, and life-work; he has strikingly accented the theme of divine guidance he has experienced as an ardent Christian believer. Having known Dr. Moore across many years, I am aware of much recounted in this narrative he has prepared about his life, and I commend his memoir to others for the moral, spiritual, and humane values it uniquely accents.

contracted polio as a child and consequently is a wheelchair user, giving her a unique perspective on life. In Digging Deeper: The Devotional, she mixes her personal experiences and observations with scripture to present a noteworthy spiritually rich daily devotional. This thirty-day devotional's sister book (Digging Deeper: The Bible Study) is a self-reflective, interactive thematic Bible study and meant to be read in conjunction with Digging Deeper: The Devotional. It encourages you to reflect on your Christian walk to develop a closer relationship with Jesus and to apply Bible teachings to everyday life. Each chapter is saturated with Rev. Lunde's nuggets of insight into how to live the Christian life in spite of seemingly insurmountable hardships. Themes address topics such a fear and worry, God's presence in time of trouble, and the wisdom of trusting in God. In Digging Deeper: The Devotional, Rev. Lunde presents the good news of how Jesus changes everything and gives you the ability to carry on through overwhelming challenges and tribulations. Together the two books are a valuable source of encouragement and personal growth for the reader.

Not Too Early, Not Too Late is a biblical and practical approach to retirement in the pastoral ministry. Pastor Emeritus J. C. Wade, Jr's blueprint for retirement encompasses the challenges of entering pastoral leadership, to the difficulties of retiring from it. Stepping aside for the stability and growth of the church is an admirable choice. The author prolifically teaches us from a spiritual and anointed standpoint that life does not end with retirement. Instead, it begins a new chapter. With almost 60 years of experience, the author ignites pastors to turn the challenges of retiring from pastoral ministry into opportunities. Not Too Early, Not Too Late gives practical guidelines to retirement. In addition, the author provides a plethora of resources, wisdom, biblical incentives, and spiritual inspiration to encourage seasoned pastors to know that retirement in pastoral ministry does not imply resignation in Kingdom ministry. This profound work teaches the reader that retirement only means reassignment. Not Too Early, Not Too Late also has practical wisdom for wives who must be considered and cherished in the transition process. Within this thoughtful work, testimonies, truths, and wisdom are also gleaned from Dr. Wade's wise and worshipful wife, Ella Wade.
