from from Raabe and Jensen via Ernst Jünger and Botho Strauß to Dietmar Dath. Annals of Scientific Society for Assembly, Handling and Industrial Robotics 2021 Springer-Verlag The present anthology seeks to give an overview of the different approaches to establish a relation between phenomenology and psychoanalysis, primarily from the viewpoint of current phenomenological research. Already during the lifetimes of the two disciplines' founders, Edmund Husserl (1859 - 1938) and Sigmund Freud (1856 - 1939), phenomenological and phenomenologically inspired authors were advancing psychoanalytic theses. For both traditions, the Second World War presented a painful and devastating disruption of their development and mutual exchange. During the postwar period, phenomenologists, especially in France, revisited psychoanalytic topics. Thus, in the so-called second generation of phenomenology there developed an intensive reception of the psychoanalytic tradition, one that finds its expression even today in current hermeneutic, postmodern and poststructuralist conceptions.

But also in more recent phenomenological research we find projects concentrated systematically on psychoanalysis and its theses. In this context, the status of psychoanalysis as a science of human experience is discussed anew, now approached on the 'first person' basis of a phenomenological understanding of subjective experience. In such approaches, phenomena like incorporation, phantasy, emotion and the unconscious are discussed afresh. These topics, important for modern phenomenology as well as for psychoanalysis, are examined in the context of the constitution of the human person as well as of our intersubjective world. The analyses are also interdisciplinary, making use of connections with modern medicine, psychiatry and psychotherapy. The systematic investigations are enriched by historical analysis and research in the internal development of the disciplines involved. The volume presents recent work of internationally recognized researchers – phenomenologically oriented philosophers, psychoanalysts and psychotherapists – who work in the common field of the two disciplines.

The editors hope that this selection will encourage further systematic collaboration between phenomenology and psychoanalysis

This Open Access proceedings presents a good overview of the current research landscape of assembly, handling and industrial robotics. The objective of MHI Colloquium is the successful networking at both academic and management level. Thereby, the colloquium focuses an academic exchange at a high level in order to distribute the obtained research results, to determine synergy effects and trends, to connect the actors in person and in conclusion, to strengthen the research field as well as the MHI community. In addition, there is the possibility to become acquainted with the organizing institute. Primary audience is

Military recruitment will become more difficult in times of demographic aging. The question arises whether demographic change will constrain the capacity of aging states like Germany to conduct foreign policy and pursue their national security interests. Since contemporary military operations still display a strong human element, particular scrutiny is given to the empirical analysis of the determinants of military propensity and military service among youth. An additional human capital projection until 2030 illustrates how the decline in the youth population will interact with trends in educational attainment and adolescent health to further complicate military recruitment in the future. A concluding review of recruiting practices in other NATO countries provides insight in best-practice policy options to reduce the military's sensitivity to demographic change. Following this approach, the book gives prominence to a topic that has thus far been under-represented in the greater discussion of demographic change today, namely the demographic impact on international affairs and strategic calculations. Brockhaus' Konversations-Lexikon BoD - Books on Demand This book takes a look at fully automated, autonomous vehicles and discusses many open questions: How can autonomous vehicles be integrated into the current transportation system with diverse users and human drivers? Where do automated vehicles fall under current legal frameworks? What risks are associated with automation and how will society respond to these risks? How will the marketplace react to automated vehicles and what changes may be necessary for companies? Experts from Germany and the United States define key societal, engineering, and mobility issues related to the automation of vehicles. They discuss the decisions programmers of automated vehicles must make to enable vehicles to perceive their environment, interact with other road users, and choose actions that may have ethical consequences. The authors further identify expectations and concerns that will form the basis for individual and societal acceptance of autonomous driving. While the safety benefits of such vehicles are tremendous, the authors demonstrate that these benefits will only be achieved if vehicles have an appropriate safety concept at the heart of their design. Realizing the potential of automated vehicles to reorganize traffic and transform mobility of people and goods requires similar care in the design of vehicles and networks. By covering all of these topics, the book aims to provide a current, comprehensive, and scientifically sound treatment of the emerging field of "autonomous driving".

Featuring 32 countries (such as Albania, Belgium, Croatia, Norway, Latvia, Montenegro), the work provides insight into a number of rarely discussed national intelligence agencies to allow for comparative study, offering hard to find information into one volume. In their chapters, the contributors, who are all experts from the countries discussed, address the intelligence community rather than focus on a single agency. They examine the environment in which an organization operates, its actors, and cultural and ideological climate, to cover both the external and internal factors that influence a nation's intelligence community. The result is an exhaustive, unique survey of European intelligence communities rarely discussed.

Inhaltsangabe:
Einleitung:
Das Verhältnis von Arbeits- und Freizeit hat sich in den letzten Jahrzehnten rapide verändert. Betrug die wöchentliche Arbeitszeit eines Arbeitnehmers in der Mitte des letzten Jahrhunderts

85 Stunden, so beträgt sie heute - rund 150 Jahre später - weniger als die Hälfte mit weiterhin prognostiziert er abnehmender Tendenz. Diese Entwicklung geht zu Gunsten des Budgets an wöchentlich frei verfügbarer Zeit, die im Jahr 2010 voraussichtlich bei drei Tagen pro Woche liegen. Freizeit wird auf unterschiedlichste Arten genutzt, jedoch immer

unter dem Aspekt, einen Ausgleich zum Arbeitsleben zu schaffen. Mit dem Freizeitbegriff werden positive Assoziationen wie Spaß, Sport, Selbstverwirkli- chung oder Erlebnis verbunden. Kino, Konzerte oder Museumsbesu- che sind beliebte Aktivitäten, die einzeln oder in der Gruppe dazu dienen, die freie Zeit sinnvoll und unterhaltsam zu nutzen. Typische Motive für die	Freizeitgestalt- ung wie Entspannung oder Geselligkeit werden in zunehmende m Maß von dem Bedürfnis nach Wissen und Erweiterung der Allgemeinbild- ung begleitet. Daher werden vermehrt Kultureinrichtu- ngen wie Museen, Galerien oder Theater besucht oder auch Volkshochschu- lkurse belegt. Diese Entwicklung geht so weit, daß bereits seit einigen Jahren von	einem "Kulturboom" gesprochen wird. An dieser Stelle setzt das Konzept der Freizeitbildung und damit diese Arbeit an. Mit dem Begriff der Freizeitbildung "wird der Versuch unternommen, den Faktor "Freizeit" für ein zukunftsweise- ndes Bildungskonze- pt in der Weise zu berücksichtige- n, daß Bildung auch in der Freizeit über Freizeitinhalte in freizeitgemäß- er Form

from a broad concept of mistakes as “something [considered to have] gone wrong” the edited volume enables comparisons of various kinds of mistakes from a range of analytical perspectives, including objectivist and interpretivist approaches, in order to draw out answers to the following guiding questions: • How does one identify and research a mistake? • Why do mistakes happen? •

How are actors made responsible? • When and how do actors learn from mistakes? This book will be of great interest to scholars, undergraduate and postgraduate students as well as practitioners in International Relations, Foreign Policy Analysis, Security Studies, International Political Economy, and Diplomatic History. Wirtschaftsdienst diplom.de This edited volume examines entanglements and disentanglements between Africa and East Germany during and after the Cold War from a global history perspective. Extending the view beyond political elites, it asks for the negotiated and plural character of socialism in these encounters and sheds light on migration, media, development, and solidarity through personal and institutional agency. With its distinctive focus on moorings and unmoorings, the volume shows how the encounters, albeit often brief, significantly influenced both African and East German histories.
