Unique Thinking is one of the best personal development guides that can change the way we think by defining the ways of thinking unique and different; focused on methods and practices to attain these unique thinking capabilities. It covers the concepts of how we need to think in order to achieve the desired results we want and fulfill our aspirations and dreams by way of our thoughts and thought process. It details about how we can change our life by our thoughts to get results just by changing the ways of our thought process; You think unique that is when you act unique and that is when you become unique and distinguished among your colleagues, friends and family. This book Unique Thinking can direct the ways of our thoughts and thought process and illustrates how we can manage our mind and thoughts during the mental states of ambiguity and distraction. It is focused on the concepts of Thought Management for attaining the states of Uniqueness in Thinking and Unique Thought Process.

In The Unique Individual You, women-in-leadership strategist Naomi Harm presents compelling neuroscience research that documents how and why women's brains are wired for empathy, intuition, and collaboration—the very qualities business managers and educational administrators are looking for in their leaders of today. This inspiring and action-orientated women-in-leadership book focuses on how to build a woman's leadership confidence and cognitive presence and her sphere of influence. Mentorship stories of hope, optimism, mindfulness, and resilience drive the storyline, and they outline a creative visionary roadmap of effective women in leadership "lean-in" strategies and solutions to define and guide your women in leadership career trajectory. Naomi Harm has 25 years of established and effective facilitation methods that model outstanding women in leadership strategies, mentoring techniques, and Total Participation Techniques (TPT) methods. These compassion-based conversations and professional development sessions and keynotes have transformed businesses and educational relationships of community practices worldwide. She shares her personal struggles as a woman leader in the IT and STEM industry, and she highlights how she overcame setbacks and recognizes her success by inspiring others with her innovative positive genius through the K12 educational lens, the corporate world of big business, and her own personal and technical lessons learned as CEO of her own EdTech women-in-leadership organization.

Throughout the book, Naomi also introduces women-in-leadership practices of how and why to develop and invest in an organization's talent: its employees. These strategies provide women leaders tools to reach their professional and personal goals, while making a significant impact in the organizations they work for and represent. In addition, each chapter includes an action-oriented toolkit that focuses on the following: ● Empathy-based coaching ● Relationship building with gender techniques ● Mentoring and relationship culture building activities ● Reading-the-room methods on when to lean in and when to observe consciously ● Body language and conversational tone techniques to represent your best self and model your sphere of influence ● Tips to be more present in your everyday leadership experiences and conversations ● Strategies for investing in yourselves with thoughtful SEL and self-care habits ● The importance of beginning and finishing each day with a moment of gratitude ● Impactful strategies to leave your legacy of good by mentoring and aspiring our future women leaders A plethora of snapshot learning scenarios and call-for-action reflection pieces are also presented on how to lead with integrity when inspiring others with your creative and positive genius, so that you, too, can influence and build your leadership learning confidence. Supportive leadership models, tools, resources, and educational protocols are provided to guide you with leadership expertise as you begin developing your leadership visionary roadmap. Perhaps most profoundly, you will discover your inner calling to honor, invest, and mentor our future generations of young women leaders with engaging and influential learner-centered approaches.

 Written by church consultant Will Mancini expert on a new kind of visioning process to help churches develop a stunningly unique model of ministry that leads to redemptive movement. He guides churches away from an internal focus to emphasize participation in their community and surrounding culture. In this important book, Mancini offers an approach for rethinking what it means to lead with clarity as a visionary. Mancini explains that each church has a culture that reflects its particular values, thoughts, attitudes, and actions and shows how church leaders can unlock their church's individual DNA and unleash their congregation's one-of-a-kind potential.

'You can be anything you want to be.' Don't let that lie rob you of your energy and purpose in life! You may function adequately at a job, even forge an impressive career—but unless what you do is lit by an inner fire, you're just getting by. Because the truth is, you were created with an indelible, highly personal pattern of innate giftedness and motivation. Arthur Miller calls it your Motivated Abilities Pattern, or MAP, and it's nothing you learned. It's something you were born with, the thing that makes you tick and determines your successes and failures. In this revolutionary book, Miller invites you to explore concepts far different from anything you've ever read in a career development guide. Drawing on nearly 40 years' experience analyzing the achievements of over 50,000 people, Miller uncovers a discovery about human nature that can literally change your life. If you feel frustrated and unmotivated by your present occupation—if you've spent months and even years wondering what to do with your life—this book can steer you in new directions that pack incredible returns. -- ¢ From back cover.

Why has our society become so focused on money--and at what human cost? Carol Johnston explores the value assumptions of Western economic theory, revealing what economists contributed and what opportunities were missed as the theory kept narrowing--until only market decisions were considered and money became the only reality. She then offers a proposal to transform the focus of capitalism from wealth to community and national health.

We live in a world in which survival is only for the strongest. If you are not strong enough in life, you will fail to survive amongst the strong. Therefore, you must learn, train, and make changes and developments. You must make progress regularly and benefit from your experiences and mistakes and also from the experiences and mistakes of others, as we must benefit from others not only from ourselves. You are currently writing the story of your own life, minute by minute. So, make it a story worthy to be read.

This is an enhanced ebook with a read-along function. When it comes to explaining physical, cultural and religious differences to children, it can be difficult to know where to begin. What Makes Us Unique? provides an accessible introduction to the concept of diversity, teaching children how to respect and celebrate people's differences and that ultimately, we are all much more alike than we are different. Additional questions at the back of the book allow for further discussion. Child psychologist Dr. Jillian Roberts designed the Just Enough series to empower parents/caregivers to start conversations with young ones about difficult or challenging subject matter. Other books in the series deal with birth, death, separation and divorce. For more information, visit www.justenoughseries.com.
