'This book provides an excellent overview of more than a decade of transformation in a forest landscape where the interests of local people, extractive industries and globally important biodiversity are in conflict. The studies assembled here teach us that plans and strategies are fine but, in the real world of the forest frontier, conservation must be based upon negotiation, social learning and an ability to muddle through.' Jeffrey Sayer, senior scientific adviser, Forest Conservation Programme IUCN - International Union for of Nature The devolution of control over the world's forests from national or state and provincial level

governments to local control is an ongoing global trend that deeply affects all aspects of forest management, conservation of biodiversity, control over resources, wealth distribution and livelihoods. This powerful new book from leading experts provides an in-depth account of how trends towards increased local governance are shifting control over natural resource management from the state to local societies, and the implications of this control for social justice and the environment. The book is based on ten years of work by a team of researchers in Malinau, Indonesian Borneo, one of the world's richest forest areas. The first part of the book sets the larger context of decentralization's impact on power struggles between the state and society. The authors then cover in detail how the devolution process has occurred in Malinau, the policy context, struggles and conflicts and how Malinau has organized itself. The third part of the book looks at the broader issues of property relations, conflict, local governance and political participation associated with decentralization in Malinau. Importantly, it draws out the salient points for other international contexts including the important determination that 'local political alliances', especially among ethnic minorities, are taking on greater prominence and creating new opportunities to influence forest policy in the world's richest forests from the ground up. This is top-level research for academics and professionals working on forestry, natural resource management, policy and resource economics worldwide. Published with CIFOR

The 14th century Javanese epic poem, Sutasoma, relates the life of a prince, born an incarnation of the Jina-Buddha Wairocana. It follows his spiritual journey to enlightenment and his temporal journey through marriage, kingship and eventual victory over the mighty, world-threatening demon, Porusada. Kate O'Brien's new translation delivers to the reader a highly approachable and lively rendition of this Buddhist epic, comparable in both complexity and scale to that of the Ramayana, yet significantly less known or understood.

Pulau Temajuh yang terdapat di pantai barat Kalimantan Barat, menghala ke Laut Cina Selatan, selama ini dikenal sebagai daerah yang kaya sumber daya alam. Hasil laut, khususnya ikan dapat ditangkap dengan mudah. Memancing atau memukat, merupakan salah satu cara untuk mendapatkan ikan-ikan di pantai atau di laut lepas. Indeks Pembangunan Manusia (IPM) Kalimantan Barat berada pada nomor urut 29 dari 34 provinsi di Indonesia. Posisi tersebut diukur berdasarkan pada 3 pendekatan dimensi dasar. Pertama umur panjang dan sehat, kedua pengetahuan dan ketiga, kehidupan yang layak. Umur panjang diukur dari dimensi kesehatan masyarakat dan angka harapan hidup masyarakat di Kalimantan Barat. Dimensi pengetahuan masyarakat dilihat angka melek huruf dan rata-rata lama sekolah. Serta dimensi hidup layak yakni daya beli masyarakat terhadap kebutuhan pokok. Kondisi masyarakat di Sungai Limau (Temajuh) seolah menjustifikasi kondisi IPM Kalimantan Barat. Tingkat kesejahteraan masyarakat yang rendah merupakan indikator kehidupan yang jauh dari kelayakan. Kesejahteraan ini tidak akan terwujud manakala relasi ekonomi masih timpang. Masyarakat tidak memiliki daya tawar terhadap posisi mereka dari "tengkulak". Sudah saatnya pembangunan di Kalimantan Barat tidak hanya berorientasi fisik semata, pembangunan jalan, gedung, dan lainnya namun juga memperhatikan pembangunan sosial dan ekonomi.

Recent decades have seen growing concern about problems of electoral integrity. The most overt malpractices used by rulers include imprisoning dissidents, harassing adversaries, coercing voters, vote-rigging counts, and even blatant disregard for the popular vote. Serious violations of human rights, undermining electoral credibility, are widely condemned by domestic observers and the international community. Recent protests about integrity have mobilized in countries as diverse as Russia, Mexico, and Egypt. Elsewhere minor irregularities are common, exemplified by inaccurate voter registers, maladministration of polling facilities, lack of security in absentee ballots, pro-government media bias, ballot miscounts, and gerrymandering. Long-standing democracies are far from immune to these ills; past problems include the notorious hanging chads in Florida in 2000 and more recent accusations of voter fraud and voter suppression during the Obama-Romney contest. In response to these developments, there have been growing attempts to analyze flaws in electoral integrity using systematic data from cross-national time-series, forensic analysis, field experiments, case studies, and new instruments monitoring mass and elite perceptions of malpractices. This volume collects essays from international experts who evaluate the robustness, conceptual validity, and reliability of the growing body of evidence. The essays compare alternative approaches and apply these methods to evaluate the quality of elections in several areas, including in the United States, Sub-Saharan Africa, and Latin America.
