Winifred's life was turned on its side the day she answered the telephone and the voice on the other side told her that her thirty-year old daughter died in her sleep. It was so unexpected and there was still so much living to be done! Nikitah's death had a profound impact on Winifred's life and her training as a grief counselor did not prepare her for the waves of sadness and emotional torment she has experienced every day since Nikitah's death. Follow her journey through loss as Winifred shares the horrific pain she experiences every day since Nikitah's death three years ago. Witness her struggles and see how she copes with the angst of the loss and how she begins to rebuild her life as she pieces her life back together living with her new normal. Winifred gives the reader a glimpse into her darkest moments as she attempts to find a way to go on living. This book is a must read for anyone going through a loss of their own!

Smith: An Unauthorized Fictography Paper Angel Press

In this kaleidoscopic, episodic joy ride, Jory Post treats us to thirty interviews that may or may not be real, with an array of "ordinary" people who turn out to be anything but, all of them in conversation with an interviewer who is herself a mystery. As one encounter follows another, we realize that "Smith" is a convenient alias for a range of voices, including: a traveling nurse from Saipan, a Vietnam-war vet who lives in his truck, a woman who can only tell her own story through fairy tales, a young man more comfortable talking to animals than people, an army brat, a poker prodigy, a pool shark. Some of these Smiths offer themselves openly to the interviewer, while others reveal as much in their resistance as they do in their narratives. Through it all, the stories, distinct and musical as jazz solos, give voice to what we want, what thrills us, what we've been most hurt or touched by, and what we will never forget — secrets any one of us might spill if only someone would listen. Jory Post has.

Fish of all colors, shapes, and behaviors live in our freshwater ecosystems and we can experience incredible ecological feats as we witness thousand-mile fish migrations and intricate spawning behavior. The streams themselves create otherworldly streamscapes. You don't need to travel to exotic places for underwater discoveries. You just need to don a mask and snorkel and explore the local stream.

We all have moments we wish we could relive. We'd give anything to skid down the toboggan hills of our youth, to breathe in the smell of our children as babies, or to spend just one more minute with someone we've lost. Dear Photograph provides a way to link these memories from the past to the present, overlapping them to see how the daydreams of our memories collide with our current realities. The idea is simple: hold up a photograph from the past in front of the place where it was originally taken, take a second photograph, and add a sentence of dedication about what the photograph means to you. The results, however, are astounding, which is why millions have flocked to dearphotograph.com and thousands have submitted their own Dear Photographs. This stunning visual compilation includes more than 140 never-before-seen Dear Photographs, as well as a space for you to attach your own cherished photo. By turns nostalgic, charming, and poignant, Dear Photograph evokes childhood memories, laments difficult losses, and, above all, celebrates the universal nature of love.
