This book is about Biscuit Moments. In our parlance, biscuit is often pronounced as 'biscut'. Phonetically written as /'bis.ku:t/. The second syllable rhymes with 'put' instead of 'pit'. Biscuits represent pleasantness and comfort, safety, and softness for everyone. They transcend distance, time and monetary means with their endearing soft crunch. Their mild sweetness. Their richly warm "apnapan". Life is about Biscuit Moments. Moments which are like Biscuits: small and sweet, sometimes crisp, sometimes soft. Small musings on refrigerator magnets and pressure cooker whistles. Intimate observations on jackets-shakets, dancing and socks. Languid reflections on monsoon, birdsong and chiffon dupattas. Such Biscuit Moments sweeten our everyday. O have biscut.

A Dingo Ate My Math Book presents ingenious, unusual, and beautiful nuggets of mathematics with a distinctly Australian flavor. It focuses, for example, on Australians' love of sports and gambling, and on Melbourne's iconic, mathematically inspired architecture. Written in a playful and humorous style, the book offers mathematical entertainment as well as a glimpse of Australian culture for the mathematically curious of all ages. This collection of engaging stories was extracted from the Maths Masters column that ran from 2007 to 2014 in Australia's Age newspaper. The maths masters in question are Burkard Polster and Marty Ross, two (immigrant) Aussie mathematicians, who each week would write about math in the news, providing a new look at old favorites, mathematical history, quirks of school mathematics—whatever took their fancy. All articles were written for a very general audience, with the intention of being as inviting as possible and assuming a minimum of mathematical background.

A hilarious glimpse of the complex lives of insects These fourteen scintillating stories are marked by Ranjit Lal's usual combination of meticulous research, rollicking storytelling and fascinating characters. Nimbu, the caterpillar, resolves to go on a diet inspired by the stick insect. Cheeni Chor, the ant, discovers a refrigerator stuffed with goodies and is driven to rebellion. Ladoo Gulabjamun, one of the resident cockroaches of the famous Golden Thali Restaurant, decides to take on the management to impress his ladylove. You will also meet the body-building cricket, the dung beetles who like to party and a host of other insects who reveal their inner lives as never before and are true to both the insect and human world. Lal's mastery of the world of birds and beasts, as captured in Crow Chronicles and The Life and Times of Altu Faltu, also extends to the world of insects, and this is perhaps his most enchanting and comical book to date. Rahul Dutta's unusual and striking illustrations capture the magic of worlds Lal reveals.
