This volume brings together state-of-the-art reviews of the non-biostratigraphic and biostratigraphic data that are used to define and correlate Permian time intervals. It includes analyses of Permian radio-isotopic ages, magnetostratigraphy, isotope-based stratigraphy and timescale-relevant biostratigraphy. It is the first book devoted to this subject and represents the cutting edge of Permian time-scale research.

Thinking through Research SAGE

Do you have Questions for God? Contained in this book are some justifications and benefits of your God-given right to ask Him salient questions, ones that would bring about a resounding and rewarding change to your life if you live accordingly. God is eagerly waiting to give answers that will guide you to fulfill your purpose and let you enjoy a glorious end. Asking God questions helps man avoid or minimize pains and agonies in his journey through life. If Isaac had confirmed that God meant Jacob to be greater than Esau, he might not have considered giving the treasured generational blessing to Esau rather than to Jacob, because of the game meat that Esau provided for his eating pleasure. When Mary asked the angel Gabriel how she could give birth to a child when she was still a virgin, she was not blamed. She received an appropriate answer. God's answer to your questions adds enduring quality to your life. Conversely, failure to ask questions leads to mediocrity because of lack of knowledge. God has the best answer to whatever clarifications you need. Author Bio: Rev Emmanuel Oghenebrorhie of Nigeria can be described as a paper pulpit pastor and Bible preacher by publication. He is gifted in giving a realistic interpretation to God's word, and divinely ordained to teach, preach and publish the Gospel of Christ Jesus, which he has been doing since 1994. He began to publish in 2004, with over 35 books so far. He runs Emmanuel Oghenebrorhie Ministries, including Christ Redemption Publications. Publisher's website: <http://www.strategicpublishinggroup.com/title/QuestionsForGod.htm>

Based on extensive local field research undertaken in and around the Cross River National Park in Nigeria, this book provides a socio-economic study of the tensions between agriculture and nature conservation. Taking a 'bottom-up' approach and focussing on the farm household and the dynamics of forest farming at household level, it brings together a wealth of new information on the subject of tropical forestry, the causes and dynamics of tropical rain forest loss and the problematic relations between conservation authorities in National Parks and local people. Its conclusions raise important questions about practical ways forward in the development of such areas.

Clonal forestry has come of age. Basic techniques in genetics and biotechnology of other organisms are generally applicable to forest trees. However, there are some differences, in particular in the juvenile- and maturation-related regeneration. Examined here are crucial topics of juvenility, maturation and rejuvenation in clonal propagation of trees. In addition, the genetics of clones, population biology of clonal deployment, propagation and field testing of clones, clone identification, clonal physiology, regeneration and variation in plant tissue cultures, the role of somatic embryogenesis in clonal forestry, and recent developments in biotechnology, including the molecular structure of trees and gene transfer are covered in depth.

`If there is a single question that presses upon the intellect of the current generation of social scientists, it is surely: "what do the great insights of social theory imply for the way we conduct research and write about the social world?". Until now there has been no single text to turn to that explores the epistemological complexities of field work, the problems of writing and language, and of the logics of inquiry that link theory, method and evidence. Using Social Theory is a magisterial effort to open up the black-box of research methods, and to provide students, in a way that no other comparable text has done, with a road map for the practice of the contemporary human sciences' - Michael Watts, Chancellor's Professor of Geography and Director Institute of International Studies, University of California, Berkeley `From "theory talk to making it walk", Using Social Theory is one of the most useful and interesting books on the market. The authors demonstrate how to use philosophy and social theory as an indispensable toolkit for passionate and rigorous research. Essential reading for students and teachers in the social sciences and humanities' - Professor Elspeth Probyn, Department of Gender Studies, University of Sydney Have you ever stopped to wonder about the influences that underpin research? If you are thinking about doing a piece of research, what difference might it make to the question you ask, to your approach to empirical work, analysis and writing of research, if you are influenced by one theoretical approach rather than another? The chapters in this innovative guide share a common belief that thinking alongside ideas, philosophical persuasions, is an integral part of the research process; it is not an optional extra. It sets out ways to encourage the researcher to think through three key moments of the research process: the production of a research question; fieldwork; and analysis and writing. As the authors demonstrate, research is not simply `done': it has to be thought about and thought through. The book's accessible style makes it suitable for anyone wishing to engage ideas in research in the social sciences and humanities.

The Forestry Chronicle by Mocktime Publication

An analysis of the evolution of competitive strategies within the forestry industry is presented in this book. The argument is that the chosen context serves as an illustrative setting for a discussion related to global corporate evolution. Therefore, this analytical and rigorous book contributes to better understanding of the workings of a number of manufacturing industries through discussion of the evolutionary development within the pulp and paper industry.
