Morbid Curiosities Le epistemologie nascoste. La costruzione del soggetto vulnerabile nell'immaginario educativo italiano. Un approccio grounded
The narrator of Brothers is his brother's keeper, trying to impose order on the domestic vortex caused by the latter's inadequacies and demands. He tells the story in order to retain a grip on himself, trying to analyze their relationship in a clinical way, but his account is infected by his brother's problems. Their relationship of dependence and authority begins to turn: is he reading and rearranging the written account of their relationship? This insistent, precise novel draws the reader into an intense world as enclosed as a mystery story.

"Cosimo di Rondó, a young Italian nobleman of the eighteenth century, rebels against his parents by climbing into the trees and remaining there for the rest of his life. He adapts efficiently to an existence in the forest canopy he hunts, sows crops, plays games with earth-bound friends, fights forest fires, solves engineering problems, and even manages to have love affairs. From his perch in the trees, Cosimo sees the Age of Enlightenment pass by and a new century dawn. Long considered one of Calvino's finest works, The baron in the trees exemplifies this brilliant writer's gift for fantasy."--Page [4] of cover.

treatise on painting by the Milanese artist Giovan Paolo Lomazzo (1538-1592). Drawing on a wide range of influences, including Leonardo's legacy, Neoplatonic cosmology, and the occult, Lomazzo affirms the development of every artist's unique, expressive style or maniera.

Eventually piecing together his mysterious past, he descends into the dark world of the occult. And very soon he will have vengeance upon the devil himself . . . A terrifying thriller, Angel's Inferno is the long-awaited follow-up to the Edgar Award-nominated noir suspense novel Falling Angel, the basis of the film Angel Heart. Praise for Falling Angel "Terrific . . . One of a kind . . . I've never read anything remotely like it." —Stephen King "A chilling homage to the hard-boiled detective novel of the Raymond Chandler school." —The New York Times "A near perfect book . . . Not since Psycho changed the bathing habits of thousands has a novelist so completely turned conceptions inside out." —Los Angeles Times

The explosive novel of Italy's revolutionary 1969 It was 1969, and temperatures were rising across the factories of the north as workers demanded better pay and conditions. Soon, discontent would erupt in what became known as Italy's Hot Autumn. A young worker from the impoverished south arrives at Fiat's Mirafiori factory in Turin, where his darker complexion begins to fade from the fourteen-hour workdays in sweltering industrial heat. His bosses try to withhold his wages. Our cynical, dry-witted narrator will not bend to their will. "I want everything, everything that's owed to me," he tells them. "Nothing more and nothing less, because you don't mess with me." Around him, students are holding secret meetings and union workers begin halting work on the assembly lines, crippling the Mirafiori factory with months of continuous strikes. Before long, barricades line the roads, tear gas wafts into private homes, and the slogan "We Want Everything" is ringing through the streets. Wrought in spare and measured prose, Balestrini's novel depicts an explosive uprising. Introduced by Rachel Kushner, the author of the best-selling The Flamethrowers, We Want Everything is the incendiary fictional account of events that led to a decade of revolt.

Brothers EDIFIR

A new translation of Bassani's moving novel of childhood friendship and the unexpected loss of innocence The years lived since then have not, in the end, been of any use: I haven't managed to remedy the suffering which has remained there like a hidden wound, secretly bleeding. In the fourth book of the Romanzo di Ferrara cycle, Bassani paints a moving portrait of a 1930s childhood in which even the familiar classroom and playground dramas begin to reflect the sinister forces at work in fascist Italy. This powerful tale of friendship and rivalry in the face of the ever encroaching spectre of adulthood adds yet another intricate thread to Bassani's rich tapestry of his native city, Ferrara. 'Giorgio Bassani is one of the great witnesses of this century, and one of its great artists' Guardian 'Powerful new translations . . . Bassani began as a poet, and McKendrick's redelivery of this taut uncompromising fiction reveals resonance and generosity' Ali Smith

In un libro dal maestoso respiro narrativo Bernd Roeck offre un affascinante affresco di quest'epoca e chiarisce in che modo in Europa poté prodursi una così singolare accelerazione di idee capaci di mettere in movimento il mondo intero. Per portare alla luce le radici del Rinascimento, si risale al Medioevo e all'antichità, spaziando ampiamente fuori dai confini europei, passando dall'arte fiorita sotto il cielo d'Italia e gli ideali degli umanisti, alle guerre di religione e agli inizi dell'oppressione in altre parti del mondo. Il libro narra di mercanti e di poeti, imperatori e papi, donne sagge e uomini terribili, e ancora dei potenti di quel tempo

e degli umili che, lontano dai palazzi, lottavano con la fame e le malattie. Un'epoca che con le sue innovazioni non ha creato soltanto dei luoghi di bellezza e spiritualità cui guardare con nostalgia, ma anche ha gettato le basi del mondo moderno nel quale ancora viviamo.

Nell'archivio di Hans Blumenberg è conservata una cartella recante la sigla "GT" e contenente alcuni brevi testi sul tema della storia dello spirito della tecnica (Geistesgeschichte der Technik). In essi Blumenberg illustra sinteticamente come una tale storia dovrebbe o potrebbe configurarsi, più precisamente come essa si distinguerebbe nettamente dalle storie della tecnica che si è soliti scrivere. In questo modo Blumenberg si profila come un anticipatore della storiografia degli sviluppi scientifici e tecnici. I testi, quasi tutti inediti, sono stati pubblicati nel 2009 dai curatori Alexander Schmitz e Bernd Stiegler per conto dell'editore Suhrkamp. Il titolo Storia dello spirito della tecnica ha indubbiamente un carattere provocatorio. Blumenberg è d'altra parte aduso alle provocazioni, o meglio alle formulazioni e riflessioni stridenti, che fanno stridere sia la lingua sia il pensiero. Ben lungi dal voler ripristinare la categoria del Geist hegeliano, egli è interessato a rilevare e mostrare i punti ove i vari discorsi sulla e della tecnica cigolano e vacillano, ove sono costretti a inventare soluzioni di continuità per assicurare una continuità che invece non è per niente data, ove la logica del flusso evolutivo viene meno e la descrizione e il pensiero vengono a trovarsi nelle secche della discontinuità.

E' comodo definirsi scrittori da parte di chi non ha arte né parte. I letterati, che non siano poeti, cioè scrittori stringati, si dividono in narratori e saggisti. E' facile scrivere "C'era una volta..." e parlare di cazzate con nomi di fantasia. In questo modo il successo è assicurato e non hai rompiballe che si sentono diffamati e che ti querelano e che, spesso, sono gli stessi che ti condannano. Meno facile è essere saggisti e scrivere “C’è adesso....” e parlare di cose reali con nomi e cognomi. Impossibile poi è essere saggisti e scrivere delle malefatte dei magistrati e del Potere in generale, che per logica ti perseguitano per farti cessare di scrivere. Devastante è farlo senza essere di sinistra.

Il volume dà conto del percorso di costruzione condivisa della teoria grounded: L’inclusione si costruisce facendo: dalla progettualità finalizzata all’etica della relazione, che nasce dal progetto di ricerca biennale dipartimentale “Le epistemologie nascoste. La costruzione del soggetto vulnerabile nell’immaginario educativo italiano. Un approccio Grounded”. Tra gli obiettivi-meta della ricerca vi è quello di individuare uno sfondo integratore che dia conto delle radici culturali dalle quali proviene l’attuale clima normativo-culturale-educativo relativo alle pratiche di inclusione in Italia (Canevaro, 2006; Ferri, 2018) e, ancora, disvelare epistemologie implicite e prassi che legittimano esclusione, patologizzazione e subalternità (hooks, 1990, 1998; Spivak, 1998). La teoria elaborata vuole essere strumento di supporto operativo per la formazione iniziale e in servizio di insegnanti, educatori e professioni a valenza pedagogica.

Film is increasingly engaging the attention of students of history at all levels. In its manifold forms from the newsreel to the 'feature', it is a major source of evidence for, and an important influence upon, contemporary history, and a vivid means of bringing the recent past to life. For earlier periods, it provides a medium in which the often widely dispersed visual evidences of the past can be brought together for the student. It offers the historian a new form in which to interpret and present his subject, and, as television has shown, it is by far the most important vehicle for the presentation of history to mass audiences. The analysis of its content and impact and the exploration of its uses are especially fitted to bring history into an interdisciplinary relationship with other fields, from sociology to the visual arts.

The Idea of North HOEPLI EDITORE
While a compass might tell us which direction we are going, there is really only one direction to which it ever points: north. North is the ultimate point of orientation, but it is also a celebrated destination for the adventurous, the curious, the solitary, and the foolhardy. In this fascinating book—updated in this accessible, pocket edition—Peter Davidson explores the concept of “north” through its many manifestations in painting, legend, and literature. Arctic bound, Davidson takes the reader on a journey from the heart of society to the most far-flung outposts of human geography, packing in our rucksacks a treasure trove of stories and artworks, from the Icelandic Sagas to Nabokov’s snowy kingdom of Zembla, from Hans Christian Andersen’s forbidding Snow Queen to the works of artists such as Eric Ravilious, Ian Hamilton Finlay, and Andy Goldsworthy. He celebrates the different ways our artists and writers have illuminated our relationship with the earth’s most dangerous and austere terrain. Through Davidson’s astonishing but inviting erudition, we ultimately come to see north as a permanent goal, frozen forever on a horizon we never seem to quite reach.

'Lane, the daughter of Laura Ingalls Wilder, was a successful writer well before the publication of her mother's famous Little House series (on which she had substantial editorial input). "After several years working for the San Francisco Chronicle, in 1920 Lane accepted a Red Cross posting to Europe to report on postwar conditions. She would spend more than five years abroad, living for nearly two years in Albania and traveling to Baghdad, Cairo, and Constantinople with a series of traveling companions or sometimes by herself" (ANB). She fell in love with Albania, coming to consider it a second home. This volume describes an expedition into the northern Albanian mountains she made with two Red Cross workers who hoped to establish a school there. Her vivid descriptions of the customs and beliefs of the Shala tribe they encountered helped make this one of her most successful books.'--Walkabout Books.

Written after the First World War when he was living in Sicily, Sea and Sardinia records Lawrence's journey to Sardinia and back in January 1921. It reveals his response to a new landscape and people and his ability to transmute the spirit of place into literary art. Like his other travel writings the book is also a shrewd inquiry into the political and social values of an era which saw the rise of communism and fascism. On one level an indictment of contemporary materialism, Sea and Sardinia is nevertheless an optimistic book, celebrating the creativity of the human spirit and seeking in the fundamental laws which governed human nature in the past fresh inspiration for the present. This 1997 edition restores censored passages and corrects corrupt textual readings to reveal for the first time the book Lawrence himself called 'a marvel of veracity'.
